Hospital Board Again Requests Bond Issue for 5th Floor

A resolution requesting City Council and the county commissioners to approve placing a bond issue on the fall ballot to finance a fifth floor at Marion General Hospital was adopted by the hospital board of governors Thursday night.

Estimated cost of constructing the fifth floor is $450,000 to $500,000. This does not include any additional facilities such as a parking lot, a teaching center or maintenance buildings.

A $750,000 bond issue to pay for the fifth floor and these additional facilities was defeated last November. It needed 55 per cent approval from the voters but got only 49 per cent of the votes cast.

In the discussion at the regular board meeting Thursday, the consensus was that a bond issue for the fifth floor only would have a greater chance of approval by the voters.

H. J. Grigsby, Ray Harper and Dr. Frederick G. Smith all spoke in favor of asking for the fifth floor to provide the badly needed additional bed space.

Mr. Grigsby read a letter from Daniel J. Carmichael, the Columbus architect who designed and helped supervise construction of the hospital. Mr. Carmichael wrote that erection of the fifth floor could be accomplished easily.

He said the hospital was built according to the best known design and construction standards and with the idea of adding a fifth floor when it was needed.

Mr. Carmichael said the existing roof of the hospital was specifically designed to serve as the base of a future fifth floor. He said that the existing roof deck could easily be removed and a smooth concrete floor applied. All necessary wiring and plumbing were extended to the present roof level so they could be easily hooked onto the fifth floor equipment, he said.

Ellis Oiler asked what other bond issues or tax levies may be on the fall ballot and said that the employment situation may play an important part in whether any are adopted or not.

Mayor Wendell L. Strong said that in addition to a school operating levy renewal that may be on the fall ballot this year, there may be a bond issue for city street repair. If a city income tax is adopted by council, bond issues and tax levies for other purposes may be defeated, the mayor said.

Asked how rural residents feel about a hospital bond issue, Felix Reber said he believes most farmers are "pretty conservative" right now and feel that the tax duplicate in most districts is "pretty well loaded." He said he feels the farm population probably would vote for or against a bond issue in accordance with how the corn crop turns out.

The motion to adopt a resolution asking council and the commissioners to approve placing the issue on the ballot was made by Mr. Grigsby. In the vote only Mr. Reber and Mr. Oiler opposed adoption of the resolution. For it were: Mr. Grigsby, Mr. Harper, Dr. Smith and Kenneth Kinsler.

ADAMS DENIES ALLEGATIONS. White House Press Secretary James Hagerty (left) looks over Presidential Aide Sherman Adams' notes before Adams read a statement to newsmen at the White House Thursday. Adams accused John Fox, publisher of the defunct Boston Post, of making "vicious accusations" against him which were "virtually" all false. Adams referred to statements Fox made while testifying before a House subcommittee concerning Adams' relationship with Bernard Goldfine, Boston industrialist. (UPI Telephoto)

Charge Made in Stormy Hearing

Adams Refutes Allegations Goldfine Bought Him Home

Fox, former publisher of the Boston Post, said he got the loan for his now defunct newspaper and has repaid it.

The letter in which Adams denied Goldfine had bought him a house was produced by Rep. Joseph P. O'Hara of Minnesota, top Republican on the subcommittee, after Fox quoted Goldfine as saying he bought the house.

O'Hara disclosed he had written Adams Thursday, asking about this, after learning that Fox had made such a statement to committee investigators.

Adams' letter said nothing about the checks that Fox quoted Goldfine as saying had gone to Adams. O'Hara had not asked Adams about that.

Adams did dispute another statement that had come up in Fox's testimony Thursday. Adams said he had never held an interest in any Goldfine business.

Chairman Harris was asked by reporters whether the committee has any evidence tending to prove or disprove Fox's testimony about the house.

"I prefer," he replied, "not to make any statement as to what we do or do not have."

The chairman declined also to characterize the testimony of Fox.

The loan, which Fox said was repaid, was for his now defunct Boston Post. Fox said he turned against the Republican Senate candidate, Henry Cabot Lodge, now U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, because he became convinced Lodge was soft against Communists.

For the second day, Fox was testifying before a House subcommittee investigating relations of Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine and Sherman Adams.

Thursday, Fox asserted that President Eisenhower's top aide, Goldfine had once told him that Adams had interests in Goldfine textile mills, and that Goldfine said he didn't have to worry about federal regulatory agencies so long as Adams held his White House post.

That brought angry denials from Adams and Goldfine.

And the White House said in effect today that President Eisenhower is convinced Fox was not telling the truth.

At a news conference, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked whether Adams' status, so far as Eisenhower is concerned, had changed any as a result of the allegations by Fox.

"How can it (change) when it (Fox' testimony) is a fabric of falsehoods?" Hagerty shot back.

The press secretary referred newsmen to an Adams' statement Thursday night denying categori-

Six Newsmen Are Among Victims

15 Persons Dead in Crash Of Giant Jet Stratotanker

Additional 13 Weeks Of Benefits Approved By State Legislators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans who exhaust their normal 26 weeks of unemployment compensation eligibility before April 4, 1959, are entitled to another 13 weeks of benefits.

About 50,000 Ohioans have used up all their eligibility in the last year.

The temporary extension of jobless benefits cleared the Legislature in special session Thursday night. Gov. C. William O'Neill is expected to sign the measure within a few days.

Following the governor's suggestion, the lawmakers skipped the offer of a federal loan to cover the benefit extension. Instead, the estimated 40 million dollars needed to pay the extra benefits will come from the state's own compensation reserve fund of slightly more than 505 millions.

The Senate also virtually completed legislative action on two other measures asked by O'Neill to bolster the Ohio economy against the present business recession.

The Senate passed a House-approved appropriation bill which adds six million dollars to the state's poor-relief fund. It was estimated the extra money will allow the state to match local relief spending dollar-for-dollar until next February—at which time the 103rd General Assembly will be in regular session.

The other anti-recession measure which passed its last legislative hurdle cleared up a legal question on bonds for extension of sewer and water lines beyond municipal limits.

Ship Among 4 Trying for Speed Mark

High Tension Line Hit Shortly After Takeoff From Westover Base

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE Mass. (AP)—A jet tanker plane attempting a transatlantic speed record crashed and exploded seconds after takeoff early today, killing all 15 aboard.

Observers said the giant KC135 jet tanker hit high tension wires about a mile and a half from its takeoff runway.

The explosion disintegrated the plane into hundreds of pieces, the largest of which was described as no bigger than a chair.

Six Newsmen Killed

Among the victims were six newsmen who were to cover the flight of four Air Force planes attempting to break records for aircraft speed in crossing the Atlantic in both directions.

Also on board was Brig. Gen. Donald W. Saunders, Athens, N.Y. airborne commander in charge of the operation.

The plane was the third of the four-plane flight to take off. The first two got off on schedule and headed directly for London.

The fourth plane was on the runway ready to take off at the time of the crash. That flight was canceled.

With the first light of dawn, rescue workers found 14 bodies scattered over a wide area. The 15th body was jammed in the wreckage.

Parts of the flaming wreckage set fire to trees and brush hundreds of yards away.

The crashing plane gouged out a big section of the Massachusetts Turnpike and a 10-mile stretch was closed because of the damage.

Tells of Hearing Crash

Kazimierz Machowski, 45, on whose property the plane crashed, said: "I heard the plane taking off as I was lying in bed. In a very little while, I heard a terrific explosion. I ran outside and it was

Government Troops, Rebels Clash in Tripoli and Beirut

House, Senate Agree To Slice In Freight Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House was ready to send to President Eisenhower today a bill slashing half a billion dollars a year in tax surcharges from the nation's freight transportation costs.

Travelers, however, will continue to pay the 10 per cent federal tax on rail, bus and airline tickets which the Senate had voted to eliminate along with the freight tax.

Compromising congressional tax cutting differences, Senate and House representatives Thursday agreed to repeal of the World War II freight excise tax effective Aug. 1 while holding the line on other forms of tax reduction for this year.

The Senate quickly approved the compromise and whipped the bill back to the House to complete congressional action today.

Despite elimination of the freight tax, the compromise closely followed administration demands for continuation of existing tax rates in the face of shrinking Treasury revenues and a prospective 10-billion-dollar budget deficit next year.

It averts a $2,115,000,000 drop in revenues otherwise due next Monday by continuing the corporation income tax rate at its present 52

Lebanon Outbreak Brings Rash of Hot Battles

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Pitched battles raged into the morning hours in Beirut and Tripoli today. With the sun came a brief spell of Moslem holiday calm, then sporadic shooting broke out in the capital.

Furious fighting between government forces and rebels in the capital shattered the darkness. For a time it appeared the expected all-out rebel offensive had begun, but more likely both sides were testing the other's night defenses.

For the moment, however, there were no major clashes.

Battle Renewed in Tripoli

In the northern port of Tripoli, where the rebel attempt to overthrow Lebanon's pro-western government began May 10, security forces shelled the rebel fortress in a blazing renewal of Thursday's battle.

Rebel forces in Beirut estimated they had 12 wounded, including a brother of a rebel leader and former premier, Saeb Salam. No casualty estimates were available from Tripoli.

Because of the tension, the Moslem Mufti of the republic issued an announcement seeking to cancel celebrations of the religious holiday, which commemorates the Sacrifice of Abraham. Among some sects the celebrations often become violent.

Rebel Strategy Undisclosed

For a while today, it seemed the Beirut battle was the start of an expected full-scale rebel offensive to overthrow President Camille Chamoun's pro - Western government. Instead it perhaps was a test of night defenses on both sides.

Rebel leaders claim they have

House Defeats Complex Farm Omnibus Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans pressed today for emergency extension of expiring farm laws after House defeat of a proposed new multibillion-dollar catch-all farm bill.

With big city Democrats lining up with Republicans, the House Thursday refused to consider a Democratic - backed omnibus measure which its critics caustically labeled a bread tax act.

The 214-171 vote which killed the bill came on what usually is a routinely accepted motion to clear

Union's Head Faces Quiz in Racket Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Maurice A. Hutcheson of the Carpenters Union was summoned for questioning today on whether he conspired with Teamsters President James R. Hoffa to fix an Indiana grand jury.

Hutcheson was called by the Senate Rackets Committee, which is probing into what Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said might be a conspiracy to obstruct justice by blocking indictments in Indiana highway scandals. McClellan spoke of $20,000 in union funds which he said were used illegally.

Hutcheson and two other Carpenters Union officials are awaiting trial on charges they made an illegal profit of $78,000 on a $20,000 investment in lands sold to Indiana for highway rights of way. They also are charged with splitting the profit with three state officials.

Indicted along with Hutcheson were Frank Chapman, union secretary treasurer, and O. William Blaier, carpenters' second vice president.

Elusive Seal Is Finally Caught

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A noose and a net today finally proved the undoing of a fugitive sea lion who had escaped capture since escaping last week from a London, Ont., zoo.

The sea lion was captured in Billman's Boathouse in East Sandusky Bay off Lake Erie.

Apparently drowsy from two hits from a tranquilizer gun Thursday night, the mammal was spotted in the boathouse this morning by fishermen.

The fishermen and other men kept it cornered in the boathouse until help arrived from the Toledo Zoo.

Then, zoo curator of mammals Dan Danford managed to slip a noose over its head and steer it to a raft.

Receive Passports

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Robeson and Corliss Lamont Thursday received the passports they have been trying to obtain for years.

Robeson, Negro singer, has been trying since 1950 to acquire a passport. Lamont, lecturer at Columbia University, had been unsuccessful since 1951.

Lt. Eugene Miller Aboard

Marion Officer on Crew Of Record-Breaking Jet

A Marion airman was aboard a U. S. Air Force jet tanker today as it streaked from New York to London to set a new world record of 5 hours, 22 minutes and 29.66 seconds for the 3,337-mile flight.

He is Lt. Eugene A. Miller, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Miller of 131 Jefferson St. A navigator regularly assigned to Westover Air Base in Massachusetts, he entered the Air Force as an Air Cadet after graduation from Capital University in 1953.

A 1949 graduate of Harding High School, Lt. Miller is married and has one daughter, Carol Ann. He served in Texas, Georgia and Alaska before being assigned to Westover last September.

His plane was followed by a second huge KC135 Stratotanker which also flashed over London in faster time than any previous mark for the route. The planes touched down at Brize Norton Air Base at Oxfordshire.

The tankers had planned to take off on a London to New York record attempt after a brief stopover. This plan was abandoned because a third tanker in the flight crashed early today as it was taking off from Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts, killing 15 persons.

The Pentagon in Washington said the first tanker was clocked over New York at 12:29:37.8, EDT, and then over London at 5:52:7.48, EDT.

Average speed was about 644 miles per hour.

In the action of the State of Ohio against Ray Orsborn and others, the defendants were award a total of $8,248, $2,744 more than the original state offer of $5,504.

SAGE Hailed by Gen. LeMay

Electronic Air Warning Net Goes Into Operation

MCGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP)—SAGE—the vast and complex electronic air warning network called Semi-Automatic Ground Environment — formally went into operation today.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force vice chief of staff, described the inauguration of SAGE as "the largest single step taken toward the improvement of air defense capabilities in the past 10 years."

Several hundred military dignitaries and representatives of many firms that helped in the four-year job building the huge system attended ceremonies dedicating this first operational SAGE center.

The various centers to be built will be controlled from North American Air Defense Command headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo.

This first center of the series guards the most densely populated and highly industrialized section of the nation — the New York-Philadelphia metropolitan areas, all of New Jersey, and parts of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Delaware.

At the dedication ceremony, the Air Force gave for the first time the details of the high powered radar system and associated computer equipment that helps screen North America from air attack. They include:

1. Heavy, long-range radar units, with radomes 50 feet in diameter and weighing 2,300 pounds mounted on steel platforms more than 100 miles at sea and on strategically located ground sites capable of detecting aircraft hundreds of miles away.

2. Medium powered gap-filler radar to plug the holes between the coverage of the long-range units. These sets automatically transmit information by telephone lines to the prime stations, where a special television converter displays the combined data.

3. At the center itself, the largest electronic computers in the world—each occupying about two acres—to receive the information from the radar installations and to monitor the positions of airplanes and defense weapons.

LeMay said SAGE cannot track ballistic weapons or control attacks against them. "As yet there is no defense against such weapons," he said.

But he said the greatest threat for the next few years comes from manned jet bombers and air breathing missiles.

2 Teen-Agers Killed, 2 Hurt in Mercer Crash

CELINA, -Ohio (AP)—Two teenagers died and two others were injured Thursday when their car hit a bridge abutment on a southwestern Mercer County road.

Luke Muhlenkamp, 16, of Rt. 2, Celina, was killed instantly and Richard Beumer, 15, of Rt. 2, Fort Recovery, died later in St. Rita's Hospital, Lima. Both were passengers.

The auto, sheriff's deputies reported, was driven by Herbert A. Homan, 17, of Rt. 2, Celina. He and another passenger, Kenneth Alig, also 17 and of the same address, were treated at Mercy Hospital here.

Group Seeks Preservation Of Tent Circus

CHICAGO (AP) — The wheezy oom-pah-pah of the calliope tooted a nostalgic lovecall as dyed-in-the-canvas circus fans swapped tales today about the big top.

"That's a sound we all love and it goes right down to my toes," sighed W. L. (Bill) Montague, ex-banker from West Hartford, Conn.

Montague is chief drum beater for a group of enthusiastic circus fans — lawyers, clerks, doctors, housewives, workingmen and assorted citizens—who call themselves Circus Fans Assn.

From all over the nation the big tent lured them here—one being a collector of elephant's hair who regards it as good luck.

The circus fans club has as one of its objectives keeping the tent circus alive. They picked Chicago for their current meeting because Cristiani Circus begins a 17-day stand today. It's under canvas and boasts a real tooting steam calliope.

The elephant hair popped up when Montague produced one and said it was the world's best good luck charm. He wore the look of a man who hopes the charm will work and work well enough to keep circuses going forever.

Versatile Qualities Noted in Zucchini

Tasty Omelet Is Formed When Combined With Egg and Cheese

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A cook who gets on familiar terms with the member of the squash family called zucchini will not be sorry. Its mild but versatile qualities have enchanting possibilities.

Zucchini is sometimes called Italian squash, and it is often used and enjoyed by cooks who have fallen heir to recipes from Italy. It is usually about eight inches long, a pretty dark green with lighter stripes. On the thin side, it resembles a cucumber, but smaller and larger zucchini do find their way to market.

For many dishes, Zucchini does not need paring. But it does have to be dunked in cold water and thoroughly scrubbed because the green surface is slightly grooved and rough.

One of the most delicious ways to use zucchini is in salad. Thin unpared rounds of the vegetable are given a few minutes boiling in water, then drained and chilled. The slices may be added to a bowlful of greens and tossed with dressing. Or they may be marinated in olive oil, wine vinegar, salt, pepper and prepared mustard and served on a platter of antipasto.

Try the following delicious way to combine the squash with eggs. When you first add the slightly beaten eggs to the zucchini that has been cooked lightly in oil, it may seem there is more oil than necessary. But as the vegetables and omelet are lifted from the sides, the oil is absorbed and it keeps the eggs from sticking to the pan. We like this dish for lunch with crisp bacon and hot buttered toast. Put the buttered toast in a low oven to keep hot and get crisp.

WEDDING OF SQUASH AND EGG. With Parmesan cheese in attendance, the versatile zucchini is wed with the egg in an enchanting omelet. Zucchini, a member of the squash family, also mixes well with salads.

ZUCCHINI OMELET

Ingredients: ¼ cup corn oil, 2 cups thin sliced unpared zucchini (2 that are each about 8 inches long), 4 eggs, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon white pepper, ¼ cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese.

Method: Heat oil in 10-inch skillet. Add squash and cook gently, stirring occasionally until lightly browned and tender—about 5 minutes. Beat eggs, with salt and pepper, enough to combine yolks and whites; beat in cheese so that there are no lumps. Pour over squash and cook over moderate heat. As mixture sets, with wide spatula or pancake turner, lift edges and tilt pan so soft portion runs down to bottom of skillet. While still slightly soft on top, cut in wedges in pan and turn each wedge over to brown the other side lightly. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Note: this omelet turns out well if cooked in a 10-inch square electric skillet; use setting designated for omelet (probably 300 degrees) turning heat down while cooking squash if it is browning too fast. The mixture will make a thinner layer than if cooked in this size round pan, but it will be easy to turn.

Pair of Coeds Live, Study in Old Windmill

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —For atmosphere, consider the quarters of two women graduate students at Bowling Green State University. The live in a windmill.

Inside, 22-year-old Roberta Simone and 23-year-old Kathleen Vogt enjoy a marine decor with brass railings and shipstyle ladders between the three floors.

They study to the gentle lapping of a tree-rimmed pond behind the mill and the creaking of the four chained-down vanes.

"About the only disadvantage," says Roberta, "is the number of campus visitors who spot this place on weekends and peek in the windows as if we were in a glass cage."

"And," chimes in roommate Kathleen, "it still takes concentration to carry a cup of coffee up those ladders."

The windmill was built in the 1930's with two ideas in mind. It was to house a pump for a proposed fountain in the pond and add glamor to a chimney which rises through the center of the structure from a heating plant below ground level.

The fountain never materialized and last year individual heating units replaced the central heat system which had served nearby duplex homes.

A kitchen and bath make up the first floor of the windmill. The second floor is a study room. The third floor, prone to shaking in strong winds, houses the beds.

Roberta is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Simone, of Cicero, Ill. Kathleen's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Vogt, of Westport, Conn.

Studying for masters' degrees in education, the two students plan to teach here next year in the university's English department.

Cafe Operator Watches While Thieves Pull Job

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — After Jesse Ivy purchased a cafe here, four men drove up in a truck.

They loaded a huge icebox and 2,000 feet of lumber onto the vehicle, explaining it belonged to the former owner, Earl Martin.

Several days later Ivy heard some disconcerting news. The men weren't working for Martin, they were stealing the stuff.

Judge Learns Reason For Worker's Absence

SHELBY, N.C. (AP) — The clerk of Recorder's Court called the name of a defendant charged with public drunkenness.

The defendant stood, then walked toward the bench.

Judge Jack White leaned forward, took a close look, and commented: "No wonder you didn't show up to work for me Saturday morning."

The defendant was the judge's yard man.

Crisis a Day Keeps Boredom Away

At the half-year point in this year of one crisis after another, no one knows where the next crisis will pop.

It might be in Cambodia, Inner Mongolia, or outer space. It could be in South America, Central America or Little America. It could even be in the United States, where a crisis a day keeps complacency away.

This has grown to be a habit among the American people. It puzzles foreigners, and sometimes it puzzles the American people, too. They fall to wondering how it is possible to surmount and survive so many crises and whether it always has been this way.

Nothing is talked about calmly any more, because everything is too momentous. All discussion is pitched on High-C, accompanied by a 48-piece orchestra composed entirely of drum-beaters.

The country leaps from one crisis crag to another, like a mountain goat being pursued by the Abominable Snowman. Every day and every hour, the hot breath of emergency is making short hair curl and chilling blood.

Whenever an American is tempted to survey the passing scene with a ho-hum attitude, he is interrupted between the ho and the hum with another cry to man the battle stations or the cash registers.

If it isn't someone named Adams who is being stop-thiefed by a howling pack, it is someone named Mack. If Tunisia isn't being devoured by the ravening wolves, Algeria and Lebanon are being ripped stem to stern.

If France isn't tottering on the brink of something, Cuba, Indonesia, Thailand, a South American republic, or civilization, itself, must be snatched back from the brink of oblivion.

There has been a "summit crisis" continuously since last December. The House subcommittee on legislative oversight, which apparently has been given the leading investigating role in the Partisan Follies of 1958, has kept things humming in Washington since February. The railroad crisis has been getting more acute month by month. The recession crisis finally got so bad not even the Democrats could make it seem worse than it was, so they quit talking about it. Likewise, the farm crisis finally wore itself out as a conversation piece, as did the tax crisis, the public works crisis and what had threatened to be an aviation crisis if airplanes didn't quit bumping into each other.

There is now a political crisis among Republicans, matching the political crisis that is chronic among Democrats. And when things threaten to quiet down, you can bet a whole new batch of crises will come along to fill the headlines and keep the air full of sound and fury.

No one knows how many crises a human being can take consecutively before going into a state of apathy in which the cry of "Wolf!" becomes just another background noise like the cry of "Thief!" in politics.

But it must be about one a week for 26 consecutive weeks, which is the dosage for the first half of 1958. It is easy to get the impression that Americans are crisised out for all current purposes and ready to take the rest of this year's emergencies in stride, secure in the belief that life in the 20th century is just one darned emergency after another anyway—exactly like life in the 19th, 18th, 17th centuries and so on back to the beginning.

They didn't know about every crisis then before, during and after it happened, but there was no more to be complacent about than there is now.

Camp Provides Outdoor Fun for Boys

Probably a boy's greatest enjoyment in the Boy Scout program comes in camping. There's an exhilaration about living with nature that no other scouting activity provides.

Boys in Marion, Crawford, Wyandot and Morrow counties will experience the thrills of outdoor living starting Sunday when the Harding Area Council's annual summer camp program begins at Boy Scout Camp Owens. Troops in the four-county area will be camping for a week at a time in five different periods.

The camp is used throughout the year by scouts, church groups, and other organizations, but reaches its maximum usage in the five-week period of resident scout camping. During this time boys are taught skills and crafts by qualified instructors, earn merit badges, improve their swimming, and pass tests for advancement in rank.

At no other time of the year do they learn so much about the skill side of scouting.

The Harding Area Council is fortunate in having at its disposal such a facility as Camp Owens. It's a big asset in the scout program of making boys into honorable and resourceful men.

A measure of the regard held in the community for the camp and the scout program is the way non-scout organizations lend a hand with camp betterment.

The Marion Lions Club is now building additional Adirondack shelters there. Last year, Marion Engineer Depot employes made a major contribution by enlarging the camp pond.

Maintenance of camp facilities on a limited budget presents problems, but with such contributions as these, the continuing improvement of the camp is assured.

Short Course in Price Setting

Steel men all over the country, it may be assumed, paid close attention to a candid explanation by Alan Wood Steel Co. of Conshohocken, Pa., of its reason for raising prices as much as $7 a ton by July 7.

A few million others gave it their close attention, too, because it was a kind of short course in price-setting. "We realize that our company is too small to maintain a price level different from that of our large competitors," says the Alan Wood announcement. "In the event the other steel producers do not change their prices by July 7, or in the event they increase them by amounts other than those we have announced, we will have no alternative other than to be competitive with their prices."

This could mean that if the large competitors exceeded $7 a ton in their raises, Alan Wood's competitive increase would be correspondingly more than $7 a ton. But it could just as well mean that if the large competitors discovered they did not have to raise the price $7 a ton, independently of one another, the Alan Wood price setters then would discover they could compete at a lower price.

It might even mean a wild stretch of the imagination that the price of steel, which is the electronic eye that opens and shuts the door on price inflation, would not have to be raised at all at this time, which would be the equivalent in the long run of a wage increase for steel workers, except that they are going to try to get a wage increase by squeezing it out of deflated dollars, instead—and that is why another boost in inflated steel prices has been made tentatively by Alan Wood Steel Co. of Conshohocken, Pa.

The Once Over

Eleven states have long admitted children to race tracks and others are reported planning similar steps following New York tracks' recent action. A top New York racing official declares better tracks are "ideal for taking kids on family picnics."

"Come, children," said Mom today, "you've been so good we're taking you for a picnic at the horse track."

"Aw, Mommer, I wanna go to the zoo," chirped Little Edgar.

"You'll see just as many wild creatures at the races," said mother.

Popper urged, "Snap into it, kids."

"You've been late to picnics before this," rebuked Mom.

"Not the kind they start with bugles," said Dad.

"Mommer, can we go swimming at this picnic?" asked six-year-old Millicent.

"Your father says he often takes dives there," said Mom.

Little Edgar said he wished he could go to the aquarium and see the fish and turtles. "Are there turtles at the race track?" he asked.

"Your father bets on nothing else," said mumsie.

OFF THE FAMILY went to the track.

"Popper, there are ants in my picnic box," piped Millicent.

"Play the one on the rail," said father. "The outside post position is bad."

"Can I have a strawberry sundae?" asked Millicent.

"All the smart handicappers are taking vanilla," insisted Dad.

"Who's that man blowing the bugle?" asked Edgar.

"It ain't Benny Goodman," said mother.

Daddy started for the mutuels, saying he had a three-horse parlay.

By H. I. Phillips

"Can we play a three-horse parlay, too?" asked Edgar.

"No, but if you're real good Popper will let you tear up his tickets," promised mother.

"Is that fun?" asked Millicent.

"The way Daddy tears them up you would think so," said mumsie.

"Ain't Daddy going to share the picnic with us?" asked Edgar.

"No. He's a late scratch," said mother.

Presently the old man came back. He looked disheveled and excited.

"How about a hard-boiled egg and a pickle?" asked Millicent, pointing to the picnic box.

"If they're in the daily double I've got 'em. I played every combination," said Pop nervously, going over his racing paper again.

"What's Daddy reading, fairy tales?" asked Millicent.

"You've hit the right name for it," laughed mother.

(It went on like that until the last race. Going home on the train, the kids asked Pop, "Did you enjoy the picnic, Popper?" "I would if I had taken that hard-boiled egg and pickle, and not gone hunting for something to beat 'em!")

TOMMY BOLT, new U.S. Open Golf Champ, carries with him a card bearing the words: "God grant me the serenity to accept things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can change and, above all, the wisdom to know the difference."

After a long lapse, Broadway producers are again opening shows in Atlantic City. There was a time when it was a favorite "try out" spot, not only handy to Gotham but an attractive and colorful community where, even if the show seemed bad, it didn't matter.

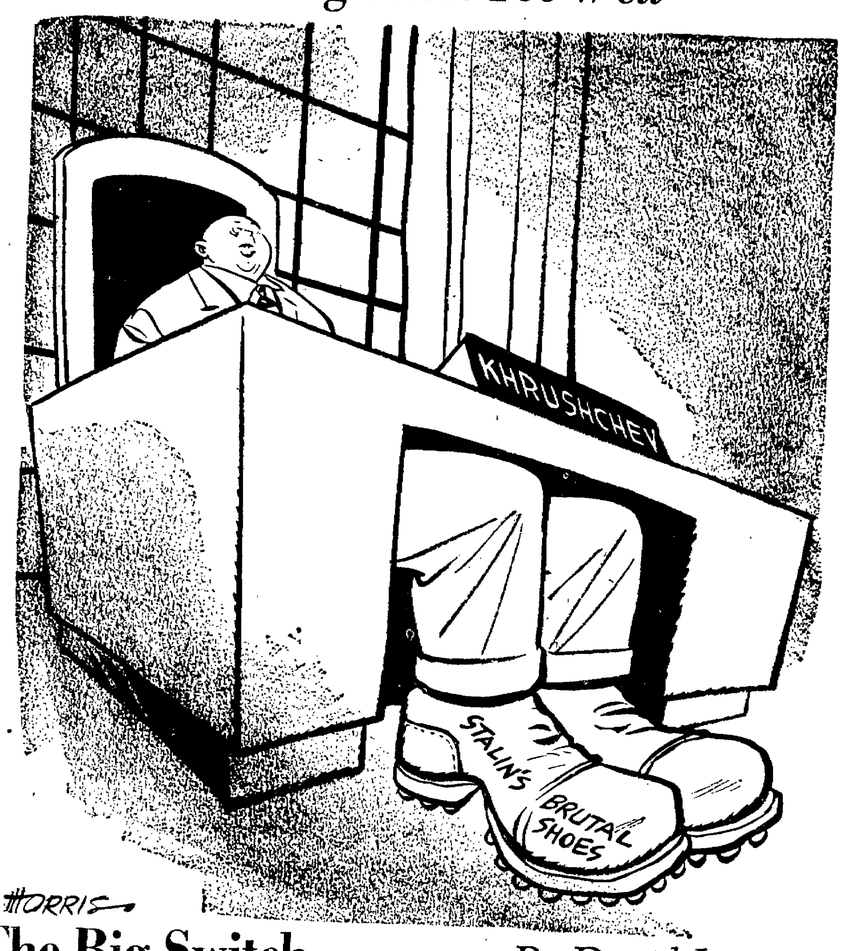
Filling Them Too Well



The Big Switch

By David Lawrence

What's this, what's this — we are actually reading today many bitter comments denouncing a court decision. And they are coming from some of the very persons who only a few months ago were reverently extolling the sanctity of America's courts and upbraiding critics for allegedly trying to "kill the umpire."

Lawrence

Poor Judge Harry J. Lemley is the target! He wrote the recent decision granting a two-and-a-half-year postponement of "desegregation" in the schools of Little Rock.

He relied, of course, on the specific advice handed down by the Supreme Court of the United States which told the local courts to apply "practical flexibility" as an equitable means of reconciling "public and private needs" in carrying out the decree on desegregation.

HERE ARE some of the latest comments:

1. Rep. Celler (D-NY) chairman of the House Judiciary Committee: "The decision is as outrageous as it is impudent. . . . It flouts the Supreme Court. . . . His (Lemley's) decision means that local clamor and demagoguery can cause an overriding of the supreme law of the land."

3. Rep. Keating (R-NY) ranking Republican member of the House Judiciary committee: "If such court decisions result in indefinitely delaying putting into effect the law of the land, Congress will have a responsibility to legislate."

3. Sen. Douglas (D-Ill): Judge Lemley seems to have "yielded to the threat of mob violence. I have never understood that mob violence took precedence over the law of the United States."

4. Statement of four Negro leaders at a conference with President Eisenhower discussing the general problem of race relations: "The decision shocked and outraged Negro citizens and millions of their fellow Americans. His opinion is being construed, rightly or wrongly, as a green light to lawless elements in their defiance of federal authority."

5. Rep. Holtzman (D-NY): "This decision seems to encourage defiance of the due process of law and makes a mockery of justice."

6. GOV. HARRIMAN: "A travesty on justice." He said the 1954 decision was being nullified "by those who were determined to set it aside by force."

7. Statement by headquarters of AFL-CIO: "An uncalled for and disgraceful retreat from the historic ruling" of the Supreme Court.

Every one of the above comments is within the right of any citizen or group of citizens, inside or outside the government, to express.

Criticism of court decisions is a logical and constitutionally protected exercise of the right of free speech in America.

The decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, moreover, are the "law of the case" and do not necessarily apply to other cases in which a somewhat different set of circumstances may arise.

The courts must determine in every case whether the circumstances are different or alike and this often delays the making of a final order.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN in his first inaugural address said:

"I do not forget the position, assumed by some, that constitutional questions are to be decided by the Supreme Court; nor do I deny that such decisions must be binding, in any case, upon the parties to a suit, as to the object of that suit, while they are also entitled to very high respect and consideration in all parallel cases by all other departments of the government.

"And while it is obviously possible that such decisions may be erroneous in any given case, still the evil effect following it, being limited to that particular case, with the chance that it may be overruled and never become a precedent for other cases, can better be borne than could the evils of a different practice.

"At the same time, the candid citizen must confess that if the policy of the government, upon vital questions affecting the whole people, is to be irrevocably fixed by decisions of the Supreme Court, the instant they are made, in ordinary litigation between parties in personal actions, the people will have ceased to be their own rulers, having to that extent practically resigned their government into the hands of that eminent tribunal."

What is said from the bench on any subject is not absolute and, fortunately, the people of America are not required to conform to Tennyson's lines:

"Theirs not to make reply,
"Theirs but to do or die."

The Upper Hand

By Truman Twill

It might well be that one of the memorable news pictures of 1958 was taken by an Associated Press photographer at a 2:15 a.m. hat sale in Chicago.

This picture, widely published, shows upward of a dozen frantic women clawing one another to get their hooks on the merchandise being disposed of by Benjamin Green-Field, who had staged 27 of these after-midnight riots before and knew what was coming.

Mr. Green-Field's millinery ordinarily sells for $89.75 and up. During his annual sale, everything in the store — 555 hats this year—is thrown out for grabs at $5 a copy. The idea is to clean the shelves and start over. The day after the sale, the proprietor left for Europe to buy a new inventory of imported stock. He had been cleaned out.

"All I could do was throw the hats up in the air one at a time, and they jumped for them," he explained, apologetically. He shrugged. "It was a shame the way they fought over the hats and ripped them up. What a pity."

Shame on you, Mr. Green-Field for being such a cynic it does not distress you down to your last feather to let women jump for hats like dogs jumping for biscuits.

Shame on all cynics who let humanity put its worst foot forward when there is an alternative. After 27 demonstrations, Mr. Green-Field knew what to expect.

He did this in a country that worked up a lather not long ago when a jury room was wired up so it might be known how the ladies and gentlemen of the jury comported themselves under stress and strain.

The damage, however, is to the morale of men, not women. Women have no secrets about one another. But men, who feed on romanticism, have a right to a few illusions about the sex with which they share their existence.

No man would jump up in the air for a hat at any price — not even if the hats were passed out free. A man would go bareheaded first. Or if he needed a hat that much, he would high-tail it to the nearest legislative branch and lobby for a law to provide him with a hat upon presentation of credentials proving his need.

But he never would jump for one. He would not tear it from a fellow creature's hands. And he would not let his picture be taken in a state of degradation. He would hide his face with the hat he was wearing, or with a handkerchief if he had arrived at his ordeal bareheaded. And if these ruses failed, he would smash the camera, rather than let the world see him at his living worst.

This is why the AP recording of the jumping women at Mr. Green-Field's hat sale may become part of the basic documentation of our times. It proves something about women.

It proves that when a hat is involved, a woman loses her thin veneer of civilization and becomes no better than a denizen of the jungle fighting over a haunch of the kill.

It proves that one of the things men can rely on to keep them secure in their superior status is millinery. As long as they can make women jump for hats, they will have the upper hand, the same as an animal trainer maintains his status by carrying a pocketful of goodies. It's that easy.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

Sauce for the Gander

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Nothing is lonelier or more futile than a proposal that members of Congress pass a law to police themselves. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore) has offered a bill to do that. You can kiss it goodby.

Yet members of Congress—particularly Republicans running for re-election—have been among the harshest critics of Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's No.1 assistant, for doing favors for his gift-giving friend Bernard Goldfine.

Neuberger, who makes no apologies for Adams, has said: "The inconsistency between the rules which Congress with a great show of righteousness applies to executive officials and its failure to apply identical standards to its own members undoubtedly has reflected adversely on the reputation of Congress in the public mind."

HE SUGGESTS: "The doctor ought to have to swallow some of his own medicine."

His bill would compel members of Congress and high government officials once a year to file a report on the sources and amount of each item of income or gifts—including speaking or writing fees—and expenditures that exceed $100, and a statement of assets and liabilities and dealings in securities or commodities during the previous year.

Neuberger is just the latest of a number of liberal senators, who, over recent years, have suggested that Congress set up by law some ethical standards covering conduct of its own members.

EARLIER THIS year, while Congress was poking around the activities of members of the Federal Communications Commission, Neuberger wrote in the New York Times: "If federal commissioners are to be pilloried for accepting hacienda suites at Palm Springs or airplane tickets to Palm Beach, how can senators and representatives continue profitable associations with law firms retained by banks, railroads, labor unions and utility companies?"

He's said more this month, both before and after the disclosures about Adams: "Under existing law no official or employe of the executive agencies can leave his public post and press any pending private matter before his old bureau or department before two years have elapsed.

"HOWEVER, no such restraint applies to members of Congress who quit the House or Senate. They can act as lobbyists or representatives for private interests immediately, even on questions or issues pending before committees on which they recently served."

Neuberger said further: "Committees of Congress require Cabinet appointees of the President to divest themselves of stock holdings in corporations that have business dealings with the federal departments which these appointees will administer.

"Yet members of the Senate and House can own shares or partnerships in businesses that are directly affected by legislation which these senators or representatives are drafting or voting upon."

MEMBERS OF Congress, to get more money for their expenses, make speeches for perhaps as much as $1,000 a talk before groups virtually interested in legislation pending before Congress.

Members of Congress get elected with the help of campaign funds fattened by contributions from labor unions, distilleries, sawmills, gas and oil corporations, power companies, airlines and mines, all with interest in legislation before Congress.

Throughout all his arguments Neuberger keeps raising the question: "Who is going to police the policeman?" The answer—based on what Congress has done to all previous suggestions like Neuberger's—is: no one.

Comedian Speaks Piece

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

"When times are tough in this country, people learn to laugh at themselves," said Johnny Carson. "It's an American trait—and it's a good one."

HAL BOYLE

An improvement in the national sense of humor, he feels, may be one of the few welcome by-products of the current recession.

Like most professional comedians, Carson believes individuals and nations tend to become stuffy and a bit pompous during prosperity.

"When people take themselves too seriously, it's hard to kid them," he said. "You run into taboos."

JOHNNY IS IN the front rank of a new crop of young comics springboarded to national attention by TV. His trigger-fast mastery of light patter made him something of a comedian's comedian before he caught on with the public.

Carson was born in Corning, Iowa, brought up in Norfolk, Neb. As did most Midwest kids of his day, he answered correspondence ads on how to learn to be a magician and ventriloquist by mail.

The difference is that Johnny actually did become a magician and ventriloquist—but wound up a career funny man.

Here is his theory of why anyone ever became a comedian:

"Somewhere along the way he did something different, and somebody laughed. Then he learned that he could defend himself in a situation by being funny—instead of having to fight his way out. Once he discovered this, he knew what his life work had to be."

After a number of years in radio, Johnny went to the West Coast and wrote comedy material for Red Skelton. He got his first big network break when he substituted for Skelton after the latter injured himself during a rehearsal scene.

Since then Carson has had a couple of network shows of his own, starred in night clubs and a Broadway production. His next goal: movies.

JOHNNY NEVER knocks other performers. He'd rather study them.

His own favorites are Jack Benny, W. C. Fields, Laurel and Hardy, and Sid Caesar.

"It seems to me we're in a new generation of humor. Jack Benny, George Burns, Jimmy Durante—they all had tough backgrounds. They had to fight their way up.

"But now a newer generation is coming along that didn't have to fight so hard. Their humor, by and large, is gentler. They have an intimacy that fits television.

"It does no good to tell your personal problems to your audience. They have their own worries. A guy making $90 a week isn't going to flood his living room with tears over the comedian's problems. He knows the comedian gets well paid for his sorrows."

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — Alexander Kerensky, former Russian premier, announced he would go to Paris to seek allied aid to Russia, before coming to America.

America's second draft lottery was held with high government and army officials drawing the first few numbers and Major Billy, General Crowder's secretary, Miss Wilhelmina Wellborn, drawing the remaining numbers of the 10,500 draft call.

Threats of a filibuster obstructed action on the women's suffrage resolution up before the Senate. Earlier the Senate passed child labor legislation.

Brig. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, first chief of the air service of the American expeditionary forces was appointed head of the air service of the First Army by Gen. Pershing.

20 YEARS AGO — President Roosevelt, standing under a rain-drenched canopy, welcomed Prince Bertil and Crown Princess Louise of Sweden upon their arrival in Wilmington, Del.

The missing Mills trophy race auxiliary cruiser, Lillith II, with five Toledoans aboard, was sighted at uninhabited East Sister Island.

Hope faded for the safe return of John Medill McCormick, 21, publishing family heir, as an intensive search in the mountains of New Mexico failed to reveal his fate.

Police were sent to a West side residence to investigate a report that a Marion man was operating a garden cultivator by dog-power. When confronted, the man claimed he was merely giving the dogs exercise, but the police had a different answer.

10 YEARS AGO — Two hundred officers and enlisted men attended a two-day Organized Reserve contact held at the Marion Engineer Depot.

Daily Bible Thought

"Who can discern His errors?" Psalm 19:12. An atheist once told us that the Creator made an error in making the world surface three-fourths water! But the sea supplies 200 miles of depth atmosphere without which rains would not water the earth which would be mostly desert. Volcanoes spread ace elements in the soil without which life would be impossible. Foolish man find many mistakes of the Creator but wise men cannot find any.

Several sheep and chickens inside the barn were killed and some farm machinery was destroyed. The same storm destroyed a corn crib and barn on the F. C. Haub farm in the same area and a large barn on Ray Phillips farm near Forest. Also destroyed was a large barn on the W. P. Reile farm near Upper Sandusky.

Campaign Set In 8th District By Democrats

Party Meeting Held At Upper; Caravan To Tour Area July 30

UPPER SANDUSKY — Eighth Congressional District Democrats Thursday laid plans for the forthcoming campaign at a district-wide meeting held in the Wyandot County Courthouse at Upper Sandusky.

Keynoting the meeting, at which about 70 were present, State Chairman William Coleman of Marysville told the group that the upcoming election is "most important one the Democratic party in Ohio ever faced." He warned that if the Democrats lose in this election Ohio faces the danger of becoming a one-party state.

Firm in Belief

He was firm in his belief in a Democratic victory and cited the influence scandals in Washington as the chief reason for his optimism. He claimed that even the president has been involved in the scandals and said President Eisenhower no longer is "an untouchable."

On the state level, Mr. Coleman charged that the Republicans probably again would "try to buy the election." He based his claim on the expenditure by Ohio Republicans in 1956 of $1,870,000 as compared with $80,000 spent by the Democrats.

A poll of delegates from the individual counties showed that many party leaders felt there are more Democratic registrations this year and they feel many Republicans will switch over and vote for Democrats in November.

A campaign caravan was planned for the district for July 30. All seven candidates for state offices plus Stephen M. Young, candidate for senator, will be on the caravan which will start with a breakfast at Findlay at 8 a.m. and close with two dinners; one at Marion and the other at Tiffin at 7:30 p.m.

Other stops on the caravan's journey will be at Kenton at 10 a.m., Bucyrus at noon, Mount Gilead a 2 p.m. and Upper Sandusky at 4 p.m. At the dinners, four of the candidates will start in Marion and four in Tiffin. Midway through the event they will exchange places, giving those in attendance at both dinners an opportunity to meet all the personalities involved.

The meeting Thursday was the first of a series of meetings to be held each month at Upper Sandusky. Upper Sandusky was chosen because of its central location, party officials said.

The meeting was presided over by State Central Committeeman Francis Marley and Committeewoman Mildred Durbin.

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A panhandler approached a man emerging from the Internal Revenue office here, asked for a handout. The man informed the panhandler: "I can't give you anything. I just paid my income tax and haven't anything left."

The panhandler merely shrugged his shoulders, walked across the street and took up a new station —outside the Holy Ghost Catholic Church.

Local Girl Repeats Vows In Anderson, Ind., Church

In the South Meridian Church of God in Anderson, Ind., on June 17, Miss Vera Naomi Williams became the bride of Ronald Eugene Holder. She is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. S. J. Williams of 761 Central Dr., Marion, and the bridegroom's parents are the Rev. and Mrs. James Holder of Alva, Okla.

The double ring ceremony was read at 8 o'clock in the evening by the bridegroom's father before an archway offset by two baskets of white mums tied with pink ribbon and two 16-branch candelebra. Nuptial music was by Mrs. Leroy Fulton, organist, and James V. Holm, vocalist.

Mrs. Ronald Eugene Holder

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was styled with a Sabrina neckline encrusted with sequins and the long sleeves ended in points over the hands. Her head piece of lace, custom made to match, was plateau style trimmed with sequins and held a ballerina length veil of nylon illusion. A single strand of pearls was her jewelry and she carried a white Bible topped with pink sweetheart roses and white stephanotis.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Carolyn Wilson and bridesmaids were Miss Mona Egelston and Miss Peggy Maddox. They were attired alike in street length dresses of white cotton dotted swiss accented with pink chiffon cummerbunds. They had pink lace half-hats and carried bouquets of white pompons and pink sweetheart roses.

Neal J. Williams, brother of the bride, served as best man and ushers were David New, Merrill Smith and Pleasant Chambless.

Mrs. Williams chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue nylon sheath dress with which she combined white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. Holder was attired in a mingled blue and black full skirted dress of acetate dacron with white accessories. Pink carnations made up her corsage.

A RECEPTION followed in Chan Memorial at the church where decorations were carried out in pink and white. Later the couple left on a wedding trip through the Smoky Mountains. For traveling Mrs. Holder donned a navy blue chemise dress trimmed with white buttons and she had white accessories. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses.

Guests at the wedding were from California, Iowa, Oklahoma and Ohio.

Mrs. Holder, a graduate of Harding High School, has attended Anderson College in Anderson, Ind., for a year and one-half. Her husband received his bachelor of science degree recently from Anderson College. He also is a graduate of Alva, Okla., high school. They are making their home at 914½ Chestnut St. in Anderson, Ind.

Miss Williams' gifts to her attendants were single strand pearl necklaces and Mr. Holder gave his best man and ushers black bow ties.

Bill Okaying Statehood for Alaska Stalled

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Southern leader opposing Alaska statehood left the way open today for a possible break in the Senate stalemate on the House-passed bill.

Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss) said he would be willing to start discussion looking toward a vote on two of three points he has raised challenging the bill's constitutionality.

Timing of the actual vote, he said in an interview, would depend on the number of senators who wish to speak.

Eastland's position may have prompted the sudden halt Thursday night in a session which Sen. Mike Mansfield (Mont), acting Democratic leader, had said earlier might continue through the night.

The Senate recessed in the midst of a talk by Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) shortly after the Senate filibuster champion passed the two-hour mark.

Both Eastland and Thurmond denied any intention to filibuster the bill.

Eastland and other opponents contend a provision of the proposed Alaska constitution is unconstitutional in that it calls for election of one of Alaska's first two senators to a short term.

They point to a U.S. constitutional requirement that all senators be elected to six-year terms.

PALMS, PEDESTAL baskets of white gladioli and asters and a pair of seven-branch candelabra tied with white satin bows and huckleberry foliage decorated the altar.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace designed with a scoop neckline and short sleeves in the basque bodice and a fully gathered skirt with an iridescent threat enhancing the hemline. Her veil of French illusion was caught to a queen's crown of matching lace studded with seed pearls and iridescents. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis and wore pearl earrings and a pearl ring, gifts from the bridegroom.

Miss Sally Fritch of Sarver, Pa., was the bride's maid of honor and only attendant. Pink organza fashioned her ballerina length dress styled with a scoop neckline and emperor lines flowing into peacock fullness at the back. Her pink headdress, studded with rhinestones, held a short veil and she carried an arrangement of pink and white feathered carnations.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Warren Lutz of near Bucyrus.

MRS. CORNELIUS, the bride's mother, wore a blue and white sheath dress with pink accessories and had a corsage of pink carnations and stephanotis. Mrs. Lutz was attired in a navy embroidered silk dress with pink accessories. Her corsage was of shell pink carnations.

Crawford Jury Indicts Ten; 9 Cases Ignored

Manslaughter Case Dropped; Marionite Among Those Held

BUCYRUS — Indictments were returned against 10 persons here late Thursday by the Crawford County grand jury, ending a three-day session.

Prosecutor John D. Sears Jr. said the jury considered 19 cases, ignoring nine, and heard testimony from 22 witnesses.

The jury declined to return an indictment against James Bogart, 23, of Bucyrus, who had been held to the jury on a first degree manslaughter in the death of Norman E. Dyer, 30, Bucyrus.

TenEyck, 25 of near Galion; speeding; Clarence Bender, 21, of near Galion, Clarence Buchanan, Galion, all non-support; John Gulley, Bucyrus; abandoning pregnant wife; Bernard Paul Beck, 31, of Bucyrus, auto theft; Isaac Eggleston, 52, Bucyrus, breaking and entering.

Sentenced to Prison

Eggleston was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus last week for violation of probation.

The jury, composed of 10 men and five women with D. C. Baer, former Bucyrus school superintendent as foreman, made its regular inspection of the county jail, county children's home and county home for the aged.

Sheriff Elwood Jacobs and his wife, who serves as jail matron, along with deputies, were commended for the excellent condition of the jail as were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Adams at the children's home, where the jurors fouund "a wonderful atmosphere among the children."

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ulmer also were complimented for the "excellent job they are doing for the old folks at the county home, especially under the conditions of the building, which needs replacement."

Other jurors were James W. Klehm, Hazel Cook, Fred Bollerer, Essie Sprow, Harley Laek, L. F. Schwartz, and Fred Fortney, all of Galion and vicinity; Virginia Pritchard, North Robinson; Robert Wood and George Rehman, both of New Washington; Francis M. Fresh Battle Boils Up in House Over Foreign Aid Program

$757 Million Cut Voted in Ike's Budget

Subcommittee's Head Hits at 'Wasters and Spenders' in Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today cut 757 million dollars from the $3,950,092,500 requested by President Eisenhower for foreign aid in the year starting next Tuesday.

The committee acted as the House prepared to take up a separate bill to authorize an aid ceiling 482½ million dollars higher than the total in the money measure. This compromise authorization chopped the President's request by 274½ million dollars.

Substantial Reduction

The recommendations, which totaled $242,717,500 less than was voted for the program this year, would leave the aid program with $3,193,092,500 in new money for fiscal 1959. The House will act on the appropriations bill next week.

Added to unobligated carryover funds from previous appropriations, the program would have new obligational authority of $4,142,000,000.

The committee refrained from sharp criticism of the program in a report written by Rep. Otto E. Passman (D-La).

Passman, chairman of a subcommittee that handled the bill, told reporters the amount approved was adequate and blasted what he called the wasters and the spenders for an unprecedented pressure campaign to obtain more money.

Areas of Cutbacks

The committee's cuts were in funds for military assistance, defense support, the development loan fund, a special contingency fund, and special assistance funds.

Military assistance covers weapons, equipment, training in their use, and supplies and services for friendly nations.

Defense support is economic help designed to aid such nations in maintaining adequate forces for defense of the free world. Augmenting direct military aid, it goes to Spain, Greece, Iran, Turkey, Pakistan, Cambodia, South Korea, Laos, the Philippines, Formosa, Thailand and Viet Nam.

The development loan fund provides easy-term loans for friendly nations to develop their own resources.

The technical cooperation program provides for sharing skills and knowledge with peoples of less developed areas to help them raise their living standards. These programs are planned for 62 nations.

The special assistance funds provide economic aid to foster political, economic and other U.S. objectives abroad. It is used where other forms of aid are not provided.

The authorization measure is a compromise between separate bills passed earlier by the Senate and the House. Its biggest items are $1,065,000,000 for military assistance and 810 millions for economic defense aid to allied nations.

ENGLISH INSTRUCTORS. Named today to teach a pre-college English orientation course this summer in Harding High School were Mrs. Elwin Falor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson of 372 Merchant Ave., and Norman Fogt, director of public relations and research in the city school system. The course will be taught from Aug. 4 through Aug. 28 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday each week. Mrs. Falor, salutatorian of the 1953 Harding graduating class, holds a BA degree in English from Ohio State University and is presently an instructor in the OSU English department while working for an MA degree. Her husband, a son of the Rev. and Mrs. H. V. Falor of 905 Bellefontaine Ave., also is a graduate student in the OSU English department. Mr. Fogt was graduated from Capital University in 1939 with a BA degree. He received an MA degree from Ohio State in 1949 and is qualified to teach both English and mathematics. A native of Wapakoneta, O., Mr. Fogt has been in the Marion school system since 1947.

cally a series of allegations by Fox.

Hagerty declined to say whether Adams may seek an opportunity to testify again before the House subcommittee.

Will Hit Out Again

But he made it clear that Adams will hit out again if Fox makes any new allegations which Adams regards as untrue.

"There certainly is no intention of letting falsehoods stand unanswered," Hagerty said.

"If there are more falsehoods today," they will be answered.

In reply to a question, Hagerty said Adams attended today's weekly meeting of Eisenhower's cabinet. Adams usually sits in at such sessions.

Replying to another question, Hagerty said there was no discussion in the cabinet session of the Adams-Fox-Goldfine controversy.

Tells of Financial Trouble

Fox spent some time today telling of his financial troubles with the Boston Post. Along the way, he accused the Securities and Exchange Commission of deliberately committing "corporate murder" on the traditionally Democratic newspaper.

Yet Goldfine, his former friend and now a business enemy, violated SEC laws, Fox said.

One of the questions the House subcommittee is looking into is whether federal agencies pulled their punches on Goldfine.

Adams has said he initiated White House inquiries at SEC about Goldfine's troubles with the agency over failure to file required financial reports. But he said he used no influence to get favored treatment and none was accorded to Goldfine.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of a special House subcommittee allowed Fox to resume the stand in open session. But Harris said he would pass on renewed demands for a closed session if the testimony went beyond qualification of what Fox has already said about Goldfine and Sherman Adams.

Assertions Hit Goldfine

Fox asserted Thursday that Goldfine, a Boston industrialist, told him that Adams, No. 1 aide to President Eisenhower, had some interest in Goldfine enterprises. He said too that Goldfine boasted he need not worry about federal regulatory agencies as long as Adams was in his White House post.

There were furious denials from Adams and Goldfine. Attorneys for Goldfine, contending defamation could be expected from Fox, had asked that he be heard behind closed doors.

In a reply to Fox Thursday, Adams said it was incredible that any committee would permit a completely irresponsible witness to use the committee as a forum of making such vicious accusations.

Claims He Has Proof

Fox, who has said he can document much of his testimony, brought to the witness stand with him today a well-filled attache case.

Fox pictured "powerful and malign influences" high in the Eisenhower administration as bearing down against him to cause, among other troubles, the collapse of the Boston Post, which Fox once published.

The 51-year-old business promoter went on:

1. On May 10, 1955, while Goldfine was in trouble with the Federal Trade Commission for alleged mislabeling of textiles, Fox said Adams went to a Washington hotel suite where Goldfine was staying and Fox also was present.

TESTIFIES IN ADAMS CASE. John Fox, publisher of the defunct Boston Post, is shown as he appeared before a house subcommittee Thursday. He swore he heard Bernard Goldfine boast in Sherman Adams' presence that the presidential assistant had promised "to take care of" Goldfine's troubles with a federal agency. (UPI Telephoto)

Funds Sought For July 4th Events in City

An appeal for additional donations for the annual Fourth of July celebration at Lincoln Park was issued today by the July 4th Committee.

James Bradshaw, vice president, said that donations so far are running far short of the total of $1,800 needed if the all-day communitywide observance is to be staged as planned.

So far the committee has succeeded in raising only $600 and part of this came from the proceeds of a dance held recently at the Coliseum.

If the additional $1,200 is raised to stage the observance, it will mark the third year the city has celebrated the Fourth with a communitywide affair designed to encourage Marionites to remain at home over the holiday and avoid the hazards of traveling to other communities to observe July 4th celebrations.

The committee points out that each year many persons traveling from one community to another to see fireworks displays are killed in traffic accidents on the crowded roads and streets.

The Marion July 4th Celebration Committee, Inc. was started in the spring of 1956 by a small group of community-minded men. Purpose of the non-profit organization is to promote the annual observance of Independence Day in the city. It depends solely on contributions from business, industries, organizations and individuals for operating funds.

Mr. Bradshaw said that anyone in the city or county interested in the purposes of the committee is invited to become a member and attend regular committee meetings.

The next regular meeting of the group will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Mark St. fire station.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

Three persons sustained slight injuries in the two county accidents investigated Thursday by state patrolmen of the Marion post. City police reported one injury in one of six accidents and sheriff's deputies reported a woman hurt in the only accident investigated by them in the last 24 hours.

Officers said two persons were hurt in a mishap occurring on Rt. 30-S, one mile east of Big Island at 6:45 p.m. when two cars collided and were considerably damaged.

The vehicles were a westbound car driven by Charles E. Roberts, 58, of Columbus, and an eastbound car driven by Charles H. Pfeiffer, 51, of near Marion.

According to the report, the collision occurred when the Pfeiffer car attempted a left turn in the path of the Roberts car.

Injured were Estella A. Roberts, 57, of Columbus, a passenger in the Roberts car, lacerations of the finger, and Pfeiffer, bruised right chin. Neither required treatment, patrolmen said. The mishap still is under investigation.

A Mansfield woman sustained a possible chest injury but was not treated after her auto failed to negotiate a left turn and struck a farm fence on Rt. 95, about one mile south of New Bloomington a 9:15 p.m., officers reported.

Driver of the eastbound auto was identified as Jean T. Porch, 49. Before striking the fence the vehicle zig-zagged across the highway, officers said. The damaged fence was owned by Roy Albert of New Bloomington.

The driver was charged with driving left of center and will appear in Municipal Court here at a later date. Her auto was considerably damaged, patrolmen said.

Auto Hits Parked Cars

One person was injured slightly in one of six traffic accidents investigated Thursday by Marion police.

Florence W. Wise, 56, of 364 E. Church St., suffered a bruised wrist when her car struck two parked cars in the 700 block of E. Church St. at 10:55 a.m.

She was driving westbound and told police an eastbound car ran the red light at E. Church St. and S. Grand Ave. causing her to lose control of her vehicle in avoiding a collision with the oncoming eastbound car.

One of the parked cars she struck was on the north side of the street and the other was on the south side of the street.

They were owned by Bruce D. Kennedy of Marysville, and G. A. Geissler of 727 E. Church St.

She went to a family doctor for treatment of her injuries.

Each of the other five accidents in the city caused less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

Woman Hospitalized

A woman was injured early today in the only accident investigated Thursday or this morning by the local sheriff's office.

Mrs. Margaret Pletcher, 27, of near Marion, is reported in fairly good condition at Marion General Hospital where she was taken for treatment of injuries after her car went out of control and swerved off the road into a tree stump at 3:38 a.m. today.

Mrs. Pletcher was traveling north on County Rd. 84, and the accident occurred near the intersection of 84 and State Rt. 95.

She told sheriff's deputies that her steering wheel failed, causing her to lose control of the vehicle. The accident caused considerable damage to the right front of the car.

Assigned to Depot

Col. Herbert Murnan

A new executive officer has been assigned to the Marion Engineer Depot. He is Col. Herbert Murnan, who was last stationed at the U.S. Army Engineer Depot at Toul, France. Col. J. Arthur Hamilton, depot commander, announced today.

A native of Indiana, Col. Murnan was graduated from Ohio State University in 1930 with a B.S. degree in civil engineering. He has seen 33 years of military service with foreign assignments in the Far East, Korea and Europe.

He has been awarded the Legion of Merit medal and the Bronze Star. While in Toul, he was depot commander. The colonel and his wife will arrive at the depot in the near future.

The previous New York to London record of 6 hours 16 minutes was set by a Royal Air Force Canberra bomber in August 1955.

Total elapsed time of the first tanker from takeoff at Westover to its setdown at Brize Norton was 6 hours 34 minutes.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said the flight was being made to demonstrate the Air Force's capability to send high-performance jet tanker aircraft to strategic points anywhere in the world.

The Stratotankers are the military version of the Boeing 707 jet airliner, which is scheduled to go into transatlantic commercial service next year. The commercial type will carry up to 147 passengers or 25 tons of cargo.

Members of the crew of the first tanker said they did not learn of the crash until they reached Britain.

Col. Harry Burrell, the 40-year-old flight commander from Omaha, Neb., who rode in the first tanker, told a reporter:

"We had no news of the crash until we landed. I can't imagine what caused it. To my knowledge that is the first one of these planes that ever crashed."

The first plane was piloted by Maj. Burl B. Davenport of San Antonio, Tex.

The official time of the second tanker was 5 hours 29 minutes 37 seconds, and its average speed was 626.5 miles an hour.

The board last night also received proposals for installation of air conditioning equipment in the medical record room on the first floor. The low proposal was submitted by S. E. Mohat & Co. of Waldo and was for less than $1,000. The board approved purchase and installation of the equipment.

Acceptance of Dr. Louis J. Cherry and Dr. Robert W. Wolford as associate members of the hospital medical staff also was approved by the board. Both are employed with the Smith Clinic. They previously were recommended for associate membership by the hospital executive committee and approved by the medical staff.

In other business, the board heard a number of routine reports and discussed various items of operations at the hospital.

the fairgrounds for the presentation of the historical pageant.

Tuesday will be labor and industry day with tours of local business places scheduled. The historical pageant will be presented again at night.

Ladies Day is the feature for Wednesday. A flower show will be held at 10 a.m. at the Willis High School gymnasium. At 10:30 a cooking school will be given at the high schol auditorium and at 12:30 a "Ladies White Collar Luncheon" will be held at the Memorial Union Building. The afternoon activities will consist of an old-fashioned style show at the high school auditorium and a "Ladies Kangaroo Kourt." Winners in the style show will be presented before the start of the historical pageant at night.

Homecoming day will be observed Thursday, a family picnic slated at 5 p.m. and a homecoming parade at 7 preceding the pageant.

American Heritage Day is the order of business on July 4. An American heritage memorial program will be given at 8 p.m. before the final presentation of the pageant.

On all nights the pageant is presented a fireworks display will conclude the activities.

per cent level, and canceling scheduled reductions in excises on new motor cars, auto accessories, liquor and cigarettes.

The excise rates which were due to fall varying amounts July 1 were imposed during the Korean War.

Repeal of the freight excise represents an estimated revenue drop of at least 485 million dollars a year—all of it coming off the freight bills of shippers over the nation's rail, highway, air and water transportation systems.

The largest part, an estimated 450 million dollars, comes from elimination of the 3 per cent tax on the transportation of freight in general and the tax of 4 cents a ton on transportation of coal.

An additional 35 million dollars comes from repeal of the 4½ per cent tax on the pipeline transportation of oil and gas.

Repeal of the freight and coal transportation excises will be effective Aug. 1 on bills paid on or after that date, whether or not the shipment was made prior to enactment of the legislation.

The question had hindered the sale of about 25 million dollars worth of such bonds, O'Neill estimated. He added that water and sewer projects, held up until the bond law was amended, will provide jobs for a number of Ohioans.

About all that remained for the lawmakers before adjournment sometime today is Senate action on a proposed billboard ban along new and relocated sections of Ohio's interstate highway system. The House passed the bill Thursday night, 94-37.

Crash

brighter than daylight from the burning plane. The heat from the wreckage was so terrific it wasn't possible to get near it. Wreckage was all over the countryside. Nobody could have lived in that crash."

Westover Air Force officials said the plane had made a normal takeoff and was airborne. They added that it broke ground at the exact point of prediction on the runway and appeared to be flying normally.

It skidded across the Massachusetts Turnpike — one of the state's busiest highways—before blowing up with a roar on the Machowski property.

Wreckage was strewn for an estimated three quarters of a mile.

Patrolman Richard Haslam, 34, Chicopee, was one of the first on the scene.

"I radioed headquarters," he said, "that there was no need for any ambulances. Nobody on board had a chance."

The civilians killed in the crash were:

Daniel J. Coughlin, 31, Boston, Associated Press newsman.

Norman Montellier, 37, New York City, United Press International newsman.

Glenn A. Williams, 41, Bethesda, Md., associate editor of U. S. News and World Report.

Robert A. Ginsburgh, 63, also associate editor of U. S. News and World Report, who joined the magazine in Washington, D. C., after retiring as an Air Force brigadier general and aide to four secretaries of defense.

James L. McConaughy Jr., chief of the Washington bureau of Time and Life magazine.

Robert Sibley, 57, Belmont, Mass., aviation editor of the Boston Traveler.

William Cochran, representing National Aeronautical Assn.

William Enyart, also representing the National Aeronautical Assn.

The military men killed, in addition to Gen. Saunders, were:

Lt. Col. George Broutsas, Brattleboro, Vt., commander of the KC135.

Lt. Joseph C. Sweet, Chandler, Ariz.

Capt. James Shipman, Kansas City, Kan.

Capt. John B. Gordon, Raleigh, N. C.

M.Sgt. Donald H. Gabbard, Los Gatos, Calif.

T.Sgt. Joseph G. Hutter, Miami, Fla.

The four planes were to have attempted record speed flights between New York, London and return.

The three existing jet aircraft world records were established Aug. 23, 1955, by a British Royal Air Force Canberra bomber piloted by Capt. J. W. Hackett.

not gone all-out yet and say they will not give Chamoun any warning when they do.

"If necessary, we will have an offensive," said one of the rebel leaders, former Premier Rashid Karami. "When we start an attack, we won't tell President Chamoun in advance," his brother Maan Karami said in a joint interview in the northern port of Tripoli.

Chamoun had predicted the big rebel push would begin by Thursday. But the only heavy fighting was in Tripoli, where the rebellion began. At least 10 persons were reported killed and 20 wounded there.

The nation remained tense and the U.S. Embassy warned Americans in Beirut to stay indoors today. This is the Moslem sabbath and a holiday celebrating the Mecca pilgrimage feast of Aid el Adha. The occasion might lead to emotional outbursts and Moslem-Christian clashes, the embassy said.

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, back in New York after a week's visit to Lebanon, indicated he believed a U.N. observation group sent by the Security Council — less than 100 men — would be the only international force required.

Mental Health Chief Will Get His Back Pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Robert A. Haines, state director of mental hygiene and correction, is back on the state payroll, and will receive all his salary, about $4,500, withheld since March 22.

This was ordered Thursday in a 4-3 decision by the Ohio Supreme Court, overruling a decision by Atty. Gen. William Saxbe.

Saxbe had ruled that Haines had been appointed illegally. Acting on Saxbe's advice, State Auditor James A. Rhodes took Haines off the state payroll March 22.

Gov. C. William O'Neill named Haines to his cabinet last Sept. 23 for a term ending Sept. 22, 1963.

Saxbe said that because the post was vacant during the regular 1957 session of the Legislature, O'Neill could not make the appointment after the General Assembly adjourned last summer.

The Supreme Court, however, said the vacancy actually occurred Oct. 15, 1956, when Dr. John D. Porterfield resigned, and when the Legislature was not in session. The decision said:

"If the present appointment was not legal, how could there ever be another occurrence of the vacancy either during a session of the General Assembly or during a time when it was not in session?"

The decision came shortly after the House, at a special session of the Legislature, voted to pay Haines his back salary.

The Senate, following the high court order, deleted the provision for Haines' salary from the relief appropriation bill and sent the bill back to the House for approval of the amendment.

Wednesday the Senate had confirmed the director's appointment.

SERVED LONG AND WELL

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—Two bridges, daringly experimental when built early in the century for private use on farms here, still survive . . . although one is not used now. They are designed to allow water to pass over them as well as under them during flood seasons.

a measure for floor consideration.

The complex, many-featured bill included proposals for new three-year price support and control programs for wheat, cotton, rice, feed grains and milk.

The House action was an impressive victory for Secretary of Agriculture Benson, whose opposition was credited with lending weight to the stunning defeat dealt House farm bloc members seeking new agriculture legislation.

House Republicans, meanwhile, organized an effort to continue for another year administration-backed laws which expire next Tuesday unless Congress votes to continue them. They had Democratic support as well.

Extension of both the school milk program and the program of farm surplus disposal through foreign sales and aid had been provided in the omnibus bill.

Fair, Warmer Is Saturday Outlook

"Fair and warmer tonight and Saturday."

That was the word this morning from the weatherman whose forecast gives rise to hope for a "brighter tomorrow" weatherwise.

The mercury rose to a high of 74 Thursday, dropped to 52 overnight and stood at 71 at noon today. A peak reading of 78 was expected before sundown. A low of 57 is anticipated tonight, with the thermometer expected to read 82 at its highest point Saturday.

Farmers in the county are hoping for the first spell of good weather. Some have yet to plow their first hill of corn. Some are mowing hay down again. All have had more than enough rain for the present.

Weather Report

Forecast for Central Ohio—Fair and cool tonight. Low 57. High Saturday 82.

Satellite To Burn Out

Army Says Explorer III Is Due To Expire Today

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Explorer III is due to expire today. The Army said it has performed above and beyond expectations.

Some time late today the 31-pound, 80-inch tube will descend into the earth's atmosphere and disintegrate. It will burn in the intense heat caused by friction, for it was not designed to take such punishment.

The satellite, launched March 26 at Cape Canaveral, Fla., transmitted more complete information on cosmic rays than was thought possible, the Army said.

Odd Orbit Is Factor

One reason was because of its highly elliptical orbit. Its farthest point from earth was 1,700 miles. Its closest point was 117 miles in its early stages.

As time wore on, it was drawn closer to the earth's atmosphere Army scientists estimated the atmospheric drag would finally cause its destruction late today. It will have traveled more than 32 million miles.

When and where this destruction will come is not known. The Army's third satellite was launched into such a wobbly and off-center orbit that it nearly brushed the atmosphere at its perigee, or closest point to earth.

Explorer I went into an orbit of approximately 1,500 miles at its farthest point, and more than 200 miles at its closest point to earth. The Army says it is expected to circle the earth for seven years.

Explorer II ended in a blazing, premature end when it fell back into the upper atmosphere.

Four separate signals were transmitted from Explorer III. They told scientists about the temperature and the frequency of meteorites and cosmic rays.

The Army says scientists now know that cosmic radiation at higher altitude is considerably more intense than had been anticipated.

Scientists also learned from the two Explorers that man can control the temperature of space vehicles to that easily acceptable for human survival.

Gangster Economy Cuts Into U.S., Probers Find

By VICTOR RIESEL

Manicured mobsters, as sleek as their limousines though virtually unknown to the public, are cutting in on every industry, from the cradle to the grave, from the Atlantic to the West Coast, in every major city of the land and reach even from Canada to Africa.

VICTOR RIESEL

These are not the opening words of a movie script treatment. They are, in effect, the words which will best mark the opening of the McClellan committee's showdown with the Mafia. That's scheduled to begin on the morning of June 30. Then the first of 50 witnesses will take the chair and chief counsel Bob Kennedy will begin following the trials which led out from the Apalachin crime convention last Nov. 14.

For a week Mr. Kennedy will grill the gourmets who abandoned their barbecue convention when the police arrived.

During that week the committee will show that the greatest mob concentration is in those industries where big amounts of loose cash are handled.

THIS IS the roughest combine the committee has tackled. This is the shocker.

This is not merely the oft told tale of rackets in the garment trucking field and mob owned shops.

These hearings will prove Sen. McClellan'a mastery of understatement when he warned that we live in a "gangster economy."

Mr. Kennedy, personally operating out of Detroit, Chicago and New York along with his force of ex-FBI men, former ace newsmen, veteran detectives and skilled accountants, found the trail from little Apalachin, New York, reaching into the industries and services without which this land could not survive. Sensational, but true.

They found the mobs operating through fronts so there would be no trouble with state licensing boards or the Internal Revenue Service.

They found the mob in all forms of transportation, not just trucking. In the steel industry, mining, the undertaking business, chain manufacturing, motor companies, soft drinks and beer distribution and carpet cleaning.

They found them in meat markets, vending machines, music recordings, automobile conveyors, food and liquor importing, cheese companies, paper products, car washers, cement production, taxis, shipping and linen supplies.

THEY UNCOVERED them in insurance, auto sales, gas stations, hundreds of small retail shops, hoisting, lathing, garages, parking lots, real estate and the supplying of the daintiest of foods for the choosiest of gourmets.

Furthermore, investigators discovered that as recently as 1955, this mob launched "a reign of terror to control the produce market and the lucrative citrus fruit trade" hauled into and across America.

It also controls importation of many types of food. This has given one of its leaders enough cash to invest in legitimate power plants in Italy.

All this, of course, is in addition to the restaurants, night-spots and bars, by the hundreds, in all big cities. This story the McClellan committee will unravel for three weeks after the Apalachin story is told as background.

THE SPECIFICS of these lurid tales are the committee's secrets, of course, but from what has gone before, this mob can best be described as an organization divided into different mobs, gangs, rings, syndicates or emergency conspiracies.

Some of these groups often are temporary in nature. They're rigged up to run a special business or direct a special adventure.

It will be shown that, although the Mafia is an association of many syndicates, policies, areas of influence and mutual cooperation in varied operations is arranged through contact with what's called the Mafia Grand Council, between such sessions as the Apalachin steak roast.

Wherever they operate, they attempt to infiltrate some local unions. Once inside a union, they try to expand their power in the city by exchanging favors, mostly muscle and money, with other lower echelon labor officials.

Since the Mafia men don't put out a neon sign saying "this local sponsored by the Big M," the other labor men frequently are unaware of the ties—and it's too late when they discover them.

The unions are used to keep wages in the mob shops low and in competing plants high. This is the most basic pattern of the night people in this jungle. This is the story Bob Kennedy will tell.

Whiteleather Loses Round in Wheat Fight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. P. Scott Whiteleather of near Minerva has been enjoined by Federal Judge Paul Jones from barring federal crop surveyors from his farm because Whiteleather opposes wheat controls.

"Whether the law is for the good of all or a majority of those affected by it, is a matter of opinion," the judge wrote in his ruling Thursday. "But the citizen opposed to it is not at liberty to take the law into his own hands."

At a hearing Tuesday, Whiteleather testified his 1958 planting of wheat is within the quota allotted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

As president of the Independent Farmers of Ohio, Whiteleather has led opposition to wheat quotas and refused to pay penalties assessed for overplantings in 1954 and 1956. The federal government has seized his automobile to protect a $600 judgment against him in these cases.

When crop surveyors tried to enter his Columbiana County farm April 1 they were turned away by the doctor and a crowd of 200 sympathizers.

Quarter-Mile Race Planned as Part of Local Horse Show

A quarter-mile race will be among new features in the horse show being held here Saturday night under sponsorship of Circle M Horsemen.

The public event, to get under way at the Marion fairgrounds at 6 p.m., is expected to draw horsemen from all parts of the state. Approximately 350 entries are anticipated in the 16-class competition, Elmer Ferriman and John Cratty, co-chairmen of the show, said today.

Prizes will be awarded for both adult and children's horsemanship. These will include trophies, cash and ribbons. Miss Becky Morrison, Circle M's candidate for queen of the Ohio Western Horse Association, will be presented during the program.

Several entertainment highlights in addition to the show competition will be offered.

Entries may be posted until 6 p.m. Saturday. The program will be held rain or shine, officials said today.

Prospect Pool Bond Sale To Begin July 4

Officials of Sunswim, Inc., of Prospect today announced the first sale of bonds for the Prospect Sunswim Pool will be made at the annual July 4 celebration at the Prospect Community Park.

Plans have been made for a special booth to be set up at the celebration to show a scale model of the proposed pool. Personnel in the booth will have information on the sale of the bonds and on the pool.

The tentative construction starting date for the pool has been set at April 1 by the officials in charge of the project.

Earlier this year Sunswim, Inc., was formed as a non-profit corporation to handle the affairs of the pool. Since being formed, the group has purchased a tract of land, about three acres in size, adjacent to the Prospect Community Park as a pool site.

Plans have been made to build a 40 by 82½ foot pool with a 30 by 35 diving area. The pool, to be built at an estimated cost of $75,000, will be financed through the sale of the non-interest bearing bonds and the proceeds from the July 4 celebration. The Independence Day celebration is sponsored by the Prospect Community Youth Committee.

Burke Leaves Post With Park Board

Resignation of John A. Burke of 194 Summit St. from the Marion City Park Board was announced today by Mayor Wendell L. Strong.

He said that in a letter received today, Mr. Burke wrote that the press of other business prevented him from giving his time to the park board.

Mr. Burke was appointed to a three-year term on the board effective Jan. 1, 1956 by former Mayor Gale D. Ireland.

"Mr. Burke was highly interested in the city park and recreation program and I am sorry to see him resign," Mr. Strong said.

The mayor said he hoped to announce the appointment of a successor within a few days.

34-Mile Railroad Asks Permission To Expand

STURGEON BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Ahnapee and Western Railway, with just 34 miles of track, is seeking government authority to establish a 222-mile ferry line to carry freight cars across Lake Michigan.

The Ahnapee operates a freight line on Wisconsin's Door County peninsula which thrusts northeastward into Lake Michigan.

Two Escapees Are Identified In Store Theft

Inmates Are Quizzed In Armed Robbing of West Virginia Grocer

The two Marion Correctional Institution escapees nabbed Wednesday in West Virginia have been identified by police as the gunmen who robbed a grocery in Montgomery, W.Va., The Associated Press reported today.

The men are Herman E. Williams, 31, formerly of Montgomery, W.Va., and James R. Murphy, 25, believed to be from Cleveland.

They are being held in Racine, W.Va., as suspects in several robberies since their escape here June 13 with a third companion, still at large.

Williams and Murphy were apprehended Wednesday while sleeping in a stolen car. The third man, Duane E. Gulley, 21, of Indiana, left the pair Tuesday night and the men claimed earlier they did not know his whereabouts.

The trio, suspects in a burglary at Ley's Jewelry Store in Bucyrus the morning of their escape, are expected to be queried concerning the Bucyrus robbery also. Nearly $1,000 worth of merchandise was taken in the early morning break-in.

The three escaped through a hospital window about 4 a.m. in a rain storm and scaled an institution fence unnoticed.

Their presence in Bucyrus later that morning was established when Murphy's prison dungarees were found in the south end near the spot a truck license plate was stolen.

The license later was found on a truck abandoned in Monroeville where the fugitives apparently switched to a stolen car.

Gordon Excited, Thrilled Over Tribe Assignment

Former Infielder Replaces Bragan as Tribe Manager

CLEVELAND (AP)—Joe Gordon, former star second baseman for the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians, flew here today to take over as manager of the Indians for tonight's game with Baltimore.

General Manager Frank Lane announced Thursday night he had fired Bobby Bragan and hired Gordon for the rest of this season and for 1959.

JOE GORDON
New Manager at Cleveland

Seeks General Improvement

"We are making this change with the hope that there will be a general improvement in the club," he explained.

Gordon, 43, an insurance salesman in Sacramento, Calif., since he left baseball after piloting San Francisco to a Pacific Coast League pennant last year, said he was "excited and thrilled" to take the job.

Lane said the decision to fire Bragan was made in the last few days and resulted from a "succession of little things."

He refused to pinpoint any one thing that led to the change, but he has been openly critical of Bragan's platooning, his constant efforts to find a place for rookie outfielder Gary Geiger in the lineup and his handling of some pitchers.

Bragan was hired as manager by Hank Greenberg, Lane's predecessor, at the end of last season to succeed Kerby Farrell. He was informed of his dismissal shortly after the Indians lost 2-1 to the Boston Red Sox.

Bragan Surprised

Bragan admitted the bad news hit him as a surprise, but he voiced no bitterness. In fact, he had only words of praise for Lane as a general manager.

Gordon played for the Yankees and Indians from 1938-50 and was a member of the Tribe's world championship team in 1948.

The 40-year-old Bragan began his managerial career with Fort Worth in the Texas League in 1948 after playing with Philadelphia and Brooklyn in the National League. He piloted the Pittsburgh Pirates to a seventh-place finish in the National League in 1956, but was fired as manager of the Pirates in midseason last year.

FINAL APPEARANCE. Bobby Bragan (right) takes part in his final argument as manager of the Cleveland Indians. Bragan went to the plate in the first inning of Thursday's game with the Boston Red Sox to protest a third strike called by Umpire Larry Napp against the Indians' Vic Power. It was announced that Bragan had been replaced by Joe Gordon, former second base star for Cleveland. Gordon will take over control of the team today. (UPI Telephoto)

Ray Narleski To Hurl Debut Of New Pilot

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians open a four-game series against the Baltimore Orioles at Municipal Stadium tonight with a new manager at the helm—Joe Gordon.

Right-hander Ray Narleski (9-5) will pitch the series opener for the Indians. Southpaw Billy O'Dell (8-7) will hurl for the Orioles.

Two home runs won Thursday's game for the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, in a pitchers' duel between the Tribe's Cal McLish (3-5) and Ike Delock (5-0), who drew his first starting assignment of the season.

The deciding blow was Ted Williams' blast high into the upper right field stands in the ninth inning—his ninth homer of the season.

Boston's Dick Gernert had tied the score in the seventh with his 13th home run of the year, a smash into the left field stands with no one on base.

The Indians scored their run in the fourth, when Vic Power singled, went to second on a passed ball and scored on a double by Rocky Colavito.

54 Open Play For Women's Golfing Crown

DETROIT (AP) — The women golfers are having trouble in their National Open, too.

Two weeks ago their male counterparts had to battle Tulsa's oppressive heat and the rugged Southern Hills golf course.

When the ladies started their U.S. Open Thursday, high winds swirled over the hilly acres at Forest Lake Country Club and the girls fought a losing battle against par.

Not one of the 54 competitors was able to equal the 37-36—73 par. The one-over-par 74 posted by tall Mickey Wright of Chula Vista, Calif., was good for a first round lead of one stroke.

Veteran Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill. claims she always has trouble in the first round of the Open, but her opening round 78 left her undismayed.

Trailing Miss Wright going into today's second round were Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., Betty Jameson of San Antonio, and Jackie Pung of Hawaii. Each had 75s.

Alice Bauer and her sister, Marlene Bauer Hagge, were two strokes off the pace at 76. Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., was penalized two strokes for showing up late at the first tee and took an 81.

After today's second round, the field will be cut and the low 40 scorers will make two trips over the 6,240-yard layout in Saturday's windup.

Rip Riley To Pitch Here

Independents To Battle Ace Gibsonburg Hurler

The Marion Independents will meet league leading Gibsonburg in a Big Eight League battle Saturday at 6:30 at Lincoln Park.

The invaders currently lead the Western Division with a 5-2 mark. The Independents are in the cellar with two wins and six defeats. Fostoria holds down second place with a 4-3 record while Toledo is third with 2-3. Akron with a 4-2 mark and Norwalk with a 5-3 share the lead on the eastern division. Lorain has a 4-5 mark while Tiffin is last with a 3-5.

The Saturday night game with Gibsonburg will feature one of the state's top softball performers in Rip Riley, who is slated to handle the pitching for the invaders.

Riley was named the league's most valuable player last year after hurling his mates to the division championship. His earned run average was an unbelievable .078. He hurled seven shutouts in posting a 10-1 record. His only loss was a 3-0 tilt to league champion Lorain in which his mates were blanked without a hit.

In one game, Riley struck out 26 batters in a nine-inning game and holds the league record for 29 strike outs in 13 innings. Averaging 24 strikeouts a game he finished the season with a total of 263 in 115 innings pitched.

Riley has won a pair of state crowns while pitching for a Toledo team and while in Colorado pitched the Pueblo Indians to three ASA World Series titles. In last year's Lake Shore Classic, Riley opposed Tod McKinney of Columbus and posted a 2-1 win over the former state champions. He struck out 27 men in that contest.

In an early game, the Independents fell to Riley by a 2-1 count. The local team led 1-0 until the bottom of the last inning when Riley's mates pushed over two runs against Sonny Taylor. Riley struck out 16 in that game.

Taylor, Bud Thorpe and Sherm McKinniss are ready for mound duty for the local nine. John Hachten and Gene Mull will umpire. Game time is 6:30.

Moose, Moulders Take Victories in Pony-Grad Action

Two Pony-Grad games were played Thursday night, with the Moose turning back the Eagles, 6-5, and the Moulders prevailing over the Elks, 4-3.

The Moose scored one run in the first inning, added three in the fifth and one each in the sixth and seventh to edge their Eagle counterparts. The latter tallied once in the second, twice in the fifth and two more times in the seventh.

Saunders took the hill for the victors, with Reid hurling for the Eagles.

All told, Moose stickmen scored six runs on four hits. Eagle runners tallied five times on seven safeties. Porietis and Stevenson both scored a pair of runs for the winners, with Reid turning the trick for the vanquished.

The Moulder-Elks affair went into extra innings before the Moulders finally took the 4-3 win.

The eventual victors scored first, getting one run in the third. Elk batsmen came up with a brace of tallies in the fourth to take a 2-1 lead. They added another run in the fifth to hike their advantage to 3-1. The Moulders, however, knotted the count in the sixth with two more runs and the score stood at 3-3 at the end of regulation play.

Neither team counted in the eighth. The Elks failed to tally in their half of the ninth, but the Moulders chased one run across for the victory. All told, the Moulders scored four runs on eight hits. The Elks got three runs on four safeties.

Moody went the route on the hill for the Moulder decision; Bailey was on the mound for the Elks. Buckley scored twice for the winners.

Green Camp Nine Slated For Weekend Contests

Wilson Auctioneers of Green Camp will be in action Saturday and Sunday at Lincoln Park.

Saturday night, the Beulah Park Jockey Club will invade the local park for a non-league contest while Mount Victory will be here Sunday for the closing game of first round baseball play in the Mid-Ohio League. The county team carries a 4-1 league record into the game.

Sharrell Leffler, Ed Schmelzer and Ken Ellwood will handle the pitching for the local team. The roster of the Saturday night foe includes Pete Perini, former Ohio State football star and professional baseballer. Game time is 8 p.m.

Lopez Belts 3 Home Runs in A's 8-3 Romp

By The Associated Press

Here's a switch. Kansas City confronts the New York Yankees with a hot streak tonight, instead of the other way around. The A's have won six straight for the first time since 1953, thanks to the unexpected slugging of Hector Lopez.

After hitting only four home runs in 65 games, Lopez walloped three Thursday night, driving in five runs and beating Washington 8-6 with a two-run shot in the 12th inning.

The Yankees, who open a three-game set at Kansas City tonight with a 7½-game lead over the second-place A's, defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-3 Thursday. Southpaw Jack Harshman blanked Detroit on five hits for a 2-0 Baltimore victory. And Boston defeated Cleveland 2-1 shortly before the Indians fired Manager Bobby Bragan and hired Joe Gordon.

The A's riding their longest string since winning seven in a row in '53 back in Philadelphia, also collected two big runs on a triple by Bob Cerv. Roy Sievers drove in four Senators runs with his 14th and 15th homers.

The Yankees, held to one hit for five innings, handed Dick Donovan his eighth defeat with three runs in the sixth, cracking a 1-1 tie on a two-run single by first baseman Bill Skowron. Norm Siebern's fourth homer clinched it in the eighth for Johnny Kucks.

Harshman, now 6-6, gave up three doubles but seldom was in trouble while gaining his second 1957 shutout, both over Detroit and Billy Hoeft. A walk, Dick Williams's single and a sacrifice fly from Gus Triandos gave Harshman the run he needed in the first inning. Bob Boyd homered for the other run.

Giants Down Cincinnati in 5-1 Struggle

CINCINNATI (AP) — Willie Mays says Crosley Field here is his favorite park for hitting, but it didn't do him much good Thursday night.

The San Francisco Giant star outfielder's only contribution at the plate was a weak grounder hit to Cincinnati Redleg Don Hoak who managed to throw wildly for an error.

But otherwise in the 5-1 Giant victory, the Mays slugging talent seemed still shut off.

It was the 16th game in which he hasn't batted in a run.

Three more official trips to the plate made it 67 since he belted an extra base hit.

Despite this, he's still leading the league today with a .372 average.

Giant Manager Bill Rigney moved Willie up to the No. 2 spot in the batting order instead of a cleanup berth.

Rigney said, "I'm not worried about Willie. There's nothing wrong with him physically. I'm convinced of that."

Rigney got some slugging out of rookie outfielder Orlando Cepeda who whacked a three-run home run in the eighth inning to help nail down the victory.

In that inning, four Giant runs came across which scuttled Redleg chances.

Pitcher Johnny Antonelli led off with a single and after Mays was walked intentionally, shortstop Daryl Spencer came up with a single that plated the first run.

Then came Cepeda's big blast over the center field wall. Harvey Haddix, who had a five-hit, one-run performance through the first seven innings, turned the job over to Joe Nuxhall.

But the Reds couldn't come back.

Antonelli polished off a masterful one-man job giving up seven scattered hits and he didn't walk a Redleg.

Cincinnati hadn't put a run together until the sixth inning when it tied the score, 1-1.

The second of four games scheduled with the Giants is tonight. Redleg Brooks Lawrence is slated to oppose Ruben Gomez on the mound.

Misses All-Star Spot

Williams Ignored In Players' Voting

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams failed to make the starting lineup for the July 8 All-Star Game today in the team selected for the first time by the major league players, coaches and managers.

The 39-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger who has played 13 previous All-Star Games undoubtedly will be named to the squad for the Baltimore contest when the managers announce the remainder of their 25-man teams Sunday.

"Well, didn't expect to make it. I haven't been going too well," Williams said in Detroit, where the Red Sox play tonight.

Pirates Place 3

Pittsburgh placed three starters on the National League side where only Stan Musial of St. Louis, Willie Mays of San Francisco and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee are repeaters from the 1957 lineup.

Only Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees and Nelson Fox of the Chicago White Sox were named from the 1957 starters in the American, which will be missing such familiar names as Yogi Berra, of New York, Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline of Detroit and Williams.

The result of the voting was announced by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick at a press conference after Frank Slocum of the commissioner's office had toured the majors, distributing and collecting the ballots. He reported 235 votes in the American and 231 in the National.

Musial, who will be playing his 15th All-Star Game, received 201 of the 231 votes.

Top man in the American League was Boston's Frank Malzone at third base, with 186 votes.

Williams, batting only .299, gave way to Bob Cerv, the thumping left fielder of the Kansas City Athletics who has been leading the league in runs batted in and home runs most of the time.

Fox Edges McDougald

The closest fight was for second base in the American, where Fox nosed out Gil McDougald of the Yankees 108-104.

The old order really was upset in the American with Bill Skowron of the Yanks on first base despite Mickey Vernon's league leading batting average at Cleveland. Louis Aparicio of Chicago took over at shortstop with Kuenn, the usual tenant, shifting to center where he finished behind the Yanks' Mickey Mantle.

Jackie Jensen of Boston, who had been battling with Cerv for the home run title, ousted Detroit's Al Kaline from right field.

Baltimore's Gus Triandos beat out both Sherm Lollar of Chicago and Berra for the catching job.

In the National League, Ernie Banks of Chicago won by a landslide at shortstop with 184 votes to 16 for Milwaukee's Johnny Logan. Frank Thomas of Pittsburgh beat out Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews for third base. Another Pirate, Bill Mazeroski, was picked for second.

Mays won center field with 195 votes.

Aaron also was an easy winner in right field. Bob Skinner of the Pirates was a surprising winner in left.

Milwaukee's Del Crandall was tabbed for catcher.

Waldo Team Registers Win in Delaware Action

Waldo Supply recorded a 3-2 victory over Hyatts garage in Delaware County League softball play Thursday night at Delaware.

Don Schultz was the winning hurler handcuffing the losers on three base hits. Two of the hits came in the first inning to account for both runs. Waldo scored two runs in the second when Joe Paulus singled and Jack Smith walked. Gary Salyer singled Paulus home and Smith scored on an error. The winning tally came in the seventh when Charles Shock doubled, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on an error.

The Waldo nine plays at Richwood Sunday at 7 p.m. and will meet Sherman-Bianchi next Thursday in league play.

Cincinnati's Mohawks Considering Idle Year

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Mohawks of the International Hockey League may not operate next season.

Tom Grace, team president, said Thursday, "Our directors, both here and in Canada, feel that hockey would be better served here if it (the team) would take a sabbatical year."

The Hawks won six straight championships.

Grace said the league will meet today in Toledo and the chances are it will fold up.

Dodgers Sink Braves; Giants, Cardinals Win

By The Associated Press

Well, look who ain't dead. Those Los Angeles Dodgers are breathing again, winning five of their last six in a drive to quit the cellar and extending their whammy over Milwaukee's National League champs to eight straight.

Right-hander Don Drysdale, the hoped-for ace who lost seven of his first eight decisions, has won two in a row for the first time this season.

He finally bagged his second complete game as the Dodgers beat the Braves 4-1 Thursday night.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals kept rolling, beating Pittsburgh 6-2 for a four-game sweep against the Pirates and a six-game winning streak. That kept them .003 percentage points ahead of the San Francisco Giants, who won two in a row for the first time in a month with a 5-1 victory at Cincinnati.

The Cards, who have come from behind in five games during the streak, did it again. An error by Bob Skinner opened the way for three runs in the seventh as Ken Boyer tripled and Gene Green, Curt Flood and Hobie Landrith followed with singles off loser Vern Law (7-5). Lindy McDaniel won his fourth.

Tag Drive Slated

Swim Team at Country Club Beaten in Opener at Delaware

The Marion Country Club dropped its opening swimming meet last night at Delaware 171-79. Next action will be a league meet with the championship Sylvania Country Club here on July 13.

Highlight of the meet for the locals were a clean sweep by the boys 12 and under led by Russell Hamilton. The medley team of Jay Casey, Dan Morgan, Dan Hale and Hamilton took the first race then Hamilton and Morgan finished one-three in the 40 yard freestyle. Carl Petrich, Casey, Morgan and Hamilton won the 160 yard freestyle relay. Mary Isaly and Kathy Morgan scored for the girls with a second and third in the 40 yard freestyle.

In the 14 and under age group, Scott Pickerel and Bob Finney took wins in the breaststroke and freestyle races with other points coming from John Wettergreen, Joe Peacock, Jack Howser, Kathy Casey (first in backstroke), Marianne Albert, Tucky Plymale, Bea Orlowski, Barb Casey and Steve Morgan. The medley team of Finney, Pickerel, Howser and Morgan won by inches while the freestyle team of Peacock, Morgan, Howser and Finney just lost by a foot.

Marion's undermanned 17 and under age group was headed by Bruce Kohler with a sterling :58.3 century freestyle just over the pool mark. Kohler also took a very close second in the 100 yard butterfly. Girls' points were by Barb Casey, Bonnie Harmon, and Barbara Bush. Jennifer Baxter, Marion's only diving entry, took a close third.

Marion coach Warren Foster had a large measure of satisfaction as the Delaware team was paced by 10 of his outstanding YMCA swimmers. Janet McMahan won the breaststroke and led two relay teams to victories in the 14 and under ave group while Lee White recovering from an illness took a second in the century freestyle before winning the butterfly for the older girls. Bob White took the backstroke and also swam two fast legs in relays.

Dennis Ruppart won the breasstroke ahead of Pickerel and Wttergreen while Ed Cooper was a double winner with a new record in the backstroke and a thrilling win in the butterfly over Kohler. Alan McKee and Dan Thompson also scored heavily for Delaware while Dick White easily won the diving with a fine performance. All of these boys and girls will return to the "Y" team next winter except Ruppart who is headed for Michigan State University in the fall.

Special Meeting Slated

A meeting of Marion's softball commissioners and team managers has been scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday. The session will be held in Room 204 of the YMCA.

MPS, Erie, Whirlpool Take Industrial Wins

In Industrial League No. 1 softball play Thursday night, MPS turned back McMillen, 10-5, Erie pummeled OSCO, 11-1 and Whirlpool clouted MED, 7-4.

MPS scored 10 runs on 13 hits and made three errors in triumphing over McMillen. The latter got five runs on five hits and bobbled the ball twice.

MPS sent Moore in to pitch, backed him up by scoring two runs in the first inning, five in the third and three in the fifth. Graham was behind the plate. McMillen, with Crabtree twirling, tallied twice in the initial stanza, added another pair in the third and a single digit in the fifth. Heimlich did the catching duties.

THE VICTORS tallied twice in the first on a hit batsman, a walk, two fielders' choices and a sacrifice fly. In the third, it was hits by Thacker, Gruber, Graham, Hinaman and Uline plus three wild pitches that accounted for five big runs. The three runs in the fifth came on safeties by Darnell, Robertson, Gruber, Graham and Boles.

For McMillen, Kennel had a single and triple, Crabtree poled a single and three-bagger, and Kirk blasted a home run.

Erie, with Max Roseberry doing the pitching honors and Bus Gruber turning in a neat exhibition of power hitting, rolled handily over OSCO, 11-1.

The victors scored 11 runs on eight hits and made one error. Paul Daum was behind the plate. OSCO got one run on five hits and bobbled the pill once. Simpkins and Lemke was the battery.

Gruber had himself quite a night. Three times he stepped to the plate and three times he belted homeruns. One in the first, one in the second and one in the fourth. Roseberry also clouted a round tripper.

Erie scored three runs in both the first and second innings, added four in the third and one in the fourth. OSCO got one in the third and the game was called after the fifth because of the 10-run lead rule.

ERIE SCORED three in the first on singles by Roseberry, Bowers and Gruber's first circuit blow. Three more in the second came on a walk to Jim Kunkle, a single by Burke and Gruber's second big blast. In the fourth, four runs crossed the plate when a walk, a hit batsman and a single by Bowers loaded the sacks and Roseberry's homerun swept them clean. Gruber's homer in the fourth wound up Erie scoring.

Whirlpool scored seven runs on 10 hits and played flawless ball in turning back MED 7-4. The latter got four runs on seven hits and made one error. Finch and Augenstine was the Whirlpool battery; Kline and Hartley did the honors for MED.

Whirlpool scored four runs in the first, one in the second, two in the third. MED tallied once in the fourth and three times in the sixth.

The victors' big first frame came on a pair of strolls, a sacrifice, hits by Agdanowski, Brady and Crider and an MED error. Finch struck out 14 MED stickmen en route to the win.

Permit for Plum Brook Atomic Reactor Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) has approved a construction permit for the 11-million-dollar atomic reactor now going up at Plum Brook Ordnance works in Sandusky, Ohio.

AEC Examiner Ray A. Kyle authorized the permit Thursday in a ruling requested by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA).

Several months ago, the AEC's Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards said there was some question whether the reactor might pose a radiation hazard. But witness for both the AEC and the NACA testified later that the reactor will be safe.

Bible Words for Today

1 Thessalonians 1:2,3 — "We give thanks to God always for you all, constantly mentioning you in our prayers, remembering before our God and Father your work of faith and labor of love and steadfastness of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ." (RSV)

In this writing Paul points out three of the great Christian virtues. The first is what he calls "work of faith." It is faith resulting in work which is the fruit of true faith. Each of us need to show our faith by our work which in turn is prompted by our faith in right and righteousness, and in God who is the Author of both.

Then Paul speaks of a "labor of love." This is labor entered into because of love for God, for His kingdom, and for one's fellow man. As Paul points out elsewhere, labor entered into without love is empty and valueless.

Then there comes "steadfastness of hope." Man's faith needs to be fixed, certain, and sure. Our faith must not be dependent on the sunshine of the moment, but must be sufficient for the trials and difficulties of life. A steadfast hope can say, "Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me." May we work in faith, labor with love, and hold steadfastly to our hope.

Public Utility Rate Makers From 10 States Will Confer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Men who regulate everything from taxi fares to utility rates in 10 states will discuss their common problems when they gather at White Springs, W. Va., next week.

Ralph A. Winter, member of the Ohio Utilities Commission, today announced plans for the third annual meeting of the Great Lakes Conference of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners. He is conference president.

Officials will be present from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Delaware and New York.

"What the various regulatory bodies do in these states affects not only the pocketbooks of millions of consumers of utility and freight services," Winter said, "but it also has an impact on the destiny of thousands of businesses —from one-man taxi companies to giant utilities and railroads."

Everett H. Krueger Jr., Ohio Utilities Commission chairman, will preside over a panel discussion Monday on gas rates.

Civil War Centennial Commission Appointed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Civil War Centennial Commission was named Thursday by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The 11-member group, which will cooperate with a federal commission, will work toward a 1960 observance of the 100th anniversary of the beginning of the Civil War. The group will organize and select a chairman at a luncheon Tuesday at the governor's mansion.

Members include John Alden Staker of Portsmouth, Dr. Walter Hevighurst of Miami University, John W. Cullen Jr. of Cleveland and Col. Warfield W. Dorsey of Mount Vernon.

New Trial Ordered

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A new trial has been ordered for William Glaros, 44, printing firm head who was convicted June 6 of aiding and abetting the Tobin-Shade insurance swindle. Glaros had been sentenced to one to 10 years in Ohio Penitentiary for his connection with the $250,000 fraud scheme during 1957. Common Pleas Judge John W. Ford ruled Thursday the jury failed to "declare in the verdict the value of the property embezzled" and the oversight "requires a new trial."

Ohio Ports To Share in 52 Million Tons of Shipping

Seaway Will Spark Sharp Competition for Trade

By ART PARKS

CLEVELAND (AP) — When the St. Lawrence Seaway is ready for full operation next year, just how much ocean-going shipping will cross the piers of Ohio's Lake Erie ports?

Canadian and New York ports will be doing their level best to "shortstop" the business before it passes through the Welland Canal into Lake Erie. Pennsylvania ports will try to lure the ships into harbor before they reach Ohio.

Last of a Series

And ports in the upper Great Lakes will exercise all other allure to entice foreign ships onward and upward.

In short, although northern Ohio has a naturally fine geographical location, it is going to face a competitive brawl for every nickel's worth of overseas trade.

THE PICTURE is not gloomy however. Indeed, Ohio ports like Cleveland, Lorain and Toledo may get more than a reasonable share of the total overseas trade until the bottleneck to the upper lakes is opened. That is the Detroit River. It doesn't have — and won't immediately—a 27-foot channel for ocean-going ships.

First, let's look at the total overseas trade via the St. Lawrence. Right now, with a 14-foot draft, 2,500-ton capacity on shipping in existing St. Lawrence canals, about 10 million tons of shipping is entering the Great Lakes each year.

Next year, with the Seaway open to ships of 25,000 tons—10 times as large—overseas shipping into the Great Lakes is expected to hit the 36½-million-ton mark; by 1965, probably 52 million tons.

NOW LET'S LOOK at what kinds of cargo the experts expect will make up next year's 36½ million tons, both exports and imports: Grain, 12,100,000 tons, iron ore 10½ million tons, petroleum 2,300,000 tons, coal 3,700,000 tons, wood pulp 700,000 tons, other ores 80,000 tons and general cargo 6,400,000 tons.

Conneaut, Ashtabula and Cleveland are Ohio's big iron ore ports. In the past, most of the ore has come down the lakes from the big Mesabi range near Duluth. But the Mesabi deposit is dwindling and the northeastern Ohio steel mills soon will be forced to rely more heavily on the great new iron mines of southern Labrador.

Since the amount of ore unloaded on the Lake Erie shore is governed by the needs of the mills, however, the advent of the Seaway will mean only that more ore is arriving from the east and less from the west.

OHIO PORTS probably will see a smartly stepped-up business in both coal and oil, both because of natural resources and geography.

Grain will not play too big a part in the Ohio picture, so it's that big 6½-million-ton general cargo estimate that will be the target of Ohio ports and business.

Seaway toll commission last week set the fee at 42 cents a ton for bulk cargo—like grain, coal, ore and oil—but set the general cargo toll at 95 cents a ton. The rate announcement caused many northern Ohio shippers to gulp, but Curtis Lee Smith, president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, reassured them:

"The rates are within the ranges proposed by the proponents of the Seaway (before its approval by Congress) in 1953, and should encourage both cargo and bulk shippers to use the Seaway rather than eastern ports."

A LOT OF DECISIONS will be jelling in the minds of shippers the world around in the next 10 months, and money-saving will be at the root of most of them.

They will be figuring whether it will be cheaper to pay the Seaway tolls or unload and load again at east coast ports and ship by rail or truck from the coast to the midwest.

If they decide to go all the way by water, they must choose the best port for their purposes.

That's why Ohio port cities — along with most of the others along the waterways the world's ships will play through the lakes— have decided this is no time to be modest.

They speak of themselves all over the world in glowing terms.

But, of course, if they're saying it about the south shore of Lake Erie between Conneaut and Toledo, they're saying it only because it's true!

Five Strikers Arrested After Firing at Cars

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Held in jail overnight, five striking employes of the Johnson Plastic Co. in nearby Auburn Twp. await charges today in connection with the firing of 11 rifle shots at automobiles passing the plant. No one was wounded.

David Eardley, assistant Geauga County prosecutor, said Thursday night he was preparing affidavits charging shooting with intent to wound and would ask County Judge William R. MacDonald to set bond at $5,000 each.

James L. Werner, Chardon attorney representing the striking United Mine Workers (UMW) District 50, said it was undecided whether the union would post bond for the five men. Their names were not given, pending filing of formal charges.

Deputy Sheriff Richard Ford said there were three separate shootings in the roadway near the struck plant, which employs 96 workers.

First incident, said Ford, was reported by Kenneth Fife of Newbury who was driving six boys home from Chagrin Falls. Fife said a car followed his after he drove past the plant and two of six shots fired struck his car.

Ford then had Fife drive past the plant again while the deputy watched and three more shots were fired by men standing in the roadway.

Ford and Deputy Al Brockway said they then drove past the plant in Fife's car and were fired at twice.

Four other patrol cars closed in and five men were arrested. Deputies said a .22-caliber rifle was seized as evidence.

Pat Kelly, plant manager, said only 16 men are out on strike in the walkout called two weeks ago in an attempt by the UMW to organize workers in the plant.

Eight Youths Give Benefit Polio Show

A group of eight boys and girls from a Marion neighborhood made their contribution toward the continuous campaign for funds for polio when they staged a show Thursday afternoon.

A play, "Old Rome," was presented by the group in the garage at the home of Gregory Bell, 216 W. Pleasant St. In the cast of the play were Diane Sabins, Lily Mills, Gregory Bell, Richard Szczepanski, George Malone, Stephen Wormell, Kenneth Halbert and James Stroupe.

Other children from the neighborhood paid five cents admission to attend and pop corn and cool aid were sold. Total sum realized by the children was $1.53 which they delivered later in the afternoon to the firemen at the Central Station who will turn it over to March of Dimes officials.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The comptroller of the currency issued a call today for a statement of the condition of national banks as of June 23.

Kiwanis Club Hears Address On Cadets' Life at West Point

Cadet John Guthrie, home on vacation from West Point Military Academy in New York, was guest speaker at the Thursday noon luncheon meeting of the Marion Kiwanis Club.

Helping Cadet Guthrie with inquiries about the school during the question and answer period which followed his talk was another Marionite attending the academy, Cadet Phil Sykes.

The speaker detailed the history of the school and then launched into an hour-by-hour account of the cadet's school day from arising time of 5:50 a.m. to 10:15 p.m. taps.

He also discussed the four major divisions emphasized: mental, moral, physical and military; emphasizing that the study program is about 60 per cent science and 40 per cent humanities.

Cadet Guthrie continued by explaining the operation of the honor system to the club.

Cadet Sykes revealed later that he had made the freshman football team at West Point and hoped to at least be a member of the traveling squad next year.

The speakers were introduced by Ralph Carhart. New Kiwanians inducted in a brief ceremony conducted by Douglas Torrance were Fred Ioerger, Jack Bray Jr. and Merl Lacey.

A letter of congratulation on the club's traffic safety activities, signed by Gov. C. William O'Neill was read by Robert Williams, president.

Ralph Kerr of Sidney, Carl Frick Jr. of New York City and John Guthrie, father of the speaker, were guests at the meeting.

Members and guests joined in group singing, under the direction of L. G. Jones, and accompanied by Richard Myers. The luncheon affair was held at Hotel Harding.

Allegation Late Sen. Taft Was Anti-Labor Disputed in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union leaders attacked Robert A. Taft of Ohio as being anti-labor when he was writing the Taft-Hartley Act.

Particularly they didn't like the provision requiring them to swear they weren't Communists if they wanted to use government facilities to settle disputes.

It was brought out in the Senate the other day that the late Republican senator didn't want that in the law, either.

The question before the Senate was whether employers, as well as union officials, should be required to sign non-Communist affidavits.

Opposing the proposal, Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) quoted testimony by James Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, before the Senate Labor Committee, as follows:

"Well, I was one who did talk with Sen. Taft, and I talked specifically on that point of the non-Communsst affidavits. Sen. Taft told me:

" 'I know how silly it is, but I have to put in some of these things that I am opposed to in order to get enough votes to get it enacted.' "

At another point in the Senate debate, Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-NY) said:

"(The non-Communist provision) was put in on the floor of the Senate over the strenuous objection of some of us, including Sen. Taft."

Rut the Senate went ahead and by a 66-20 vote adopted an amendment to retain the non-Communist oath provision for union leaders and adding the same requirement for employers.

If the House goes along with the Senate—by no means a certainty in view of the Eisenhower administration's opposition — Ohio employers will be signing these forms, too, if they want to file any complaints with the National Labor Relations Board.

Actually, this would mean a comparative handful of Ohio employers in any given year—less than 100 if past experience means anything. Most complaints to the board come from labor unions.

Agrees With Sentence

CLEVELAND (AP)—The president of the Cleveland Teachers Union, Paul Corey, praised a six-month workhouse sentence handed to Marvin Scott, 19, who admitted slugging a 67-year-old East Technical High School teacher, Clarence Doubler, on June 2. "It will serve as a warning to other hoodlums who would assault teachers," Corey said.

Will Tell of School Needs

County Board Expects Survey Results in July

The results of the survey relative to future educational needs in the Marion County schools, recently completed by a team of Ohio State University statisticians, are expected to be received in the county school office "sometime in July."

So said D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools, at the Thursday night meeting of the county Board of Education.

Mr. Mills added that "as soon as possible" after the results are received, the county board will meet with the members of the several local boards to make public the contents of the report.

THE SURVEY was ordered to determine future building needs, anticipated student numbers and teachers required and the general feeling of the populace in the county concerning the efficiency of their respective school programs, all of which might help decide future consolidation actions.

The members discussed at some length the prospect of future annexation proceedings. All were agreed that any annexation of a county school area to the city should be done only if the residents of the area concerned had been given an opportunity to vote on the move.

Ralph Williams, board president, declared that county residents are keeping "close watch on the tax situation," and suggested the notion of being annexed may not be as appealing today as it once might have been. Cecil Roberts, board member, summed up the group's attitude by saying that "people who are being moved should have a voice in that move."

Mr. Mills told the board he needs but 12 teachers to complete the faculty roster for the county. He added that many of the jobs are "in the process" of being filled. He pointed out that while he is in the "best shape ever" with regard to signing up teachers, several of the vacancies are in the mathematics and English categories "the two most critical areas."

AS OF NOW, teachers of one type or another are needed in Caledonia, Claridon, Green Camp, LaRue, Ridgedale, Prospect and Pleasant. English teachers are yet to be signed for Prospect, Ridgedale and Caledonia. Prospect also needs a mathematics instructor. Mr. Mills noted that July 10 is the last day in which teachers can resign their present jobs "without the consent of local boards."

The board adopted a resolution drawn up by the state department of education relative to the use of surplus equipment purchased by local school districts. The resolution stipulates that machinery, tools and other material, bought by the county board for any local school, must be used by that school for the express purpose it was purchased. Under no circumstances can it be loaned out, rented or given any other individual or concern.

This equipment is purchased periodically at a nominal fee for school use. Mr. Mills explained that it was, at one time, the policy to declare the item bought a "free article" after a certain period of time, after which it could be used by someone other than the school. However, such is no longer the case, since the privilege apparently has been abused.

The board was faced with the necessity of adopting the proposal or eliminating itself from participation in the program. Each of the local boards must take similar action if they too, expect to participate, Mr. Mills said.

A discussion on the requirement of physical examinations for drivers of county school buses was concluded with the unanimous passage of a motion by Mr. Roberts that examinations be given every year.

The discussion was a result of a question concerning the Ohio code, which says that bus drivers shall be given a physical examination "upon employment." The question was whether that meant for the duration of his or her employment, as inferred, or at the beginning of each school year, since most drivers in the county are hired on a year-to-year basis.

MR. ROBERTS asserted that since drivers were responsible for from 50 to 70 youngsters on the buses, he was in favor of annual examinations. He so moved and the board voiced its approval.

Mr. Mills also was directed to send a letter to all bus drivers relative to a state law that makes it unlawful to drive a school bus into a driveway and then back it out onto a highway. Drivers are required by law to back into the drive and pull out into the traffic. It was reported that drivers in the county are commonly breaking this law and it was suggested that they might be in ignorance of it.

The superintendent read a report from H. L. Swick, state examiner from the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Office, relative to an inspection of the county board's accounts and records for the period Oct. 31, 1956, to March 31, 1958. The report noted in part, that the board's minute in part, that the board's minutes book was "neatly typed and seemed to contain all official business transacted by the county board during the audit period."

Present Thursday night besides Mr. Mills, Mr. Williams and Mr. Roberts, were Edwin Carey, board vice president, and H. Clay Smith.

Guard Suspended, May Be Dismissed

A Marion Correctional Institution guard has until Saturday noon to offer an explanation concerning his conduct on duty which led to a 30-day suspension last Saturday, Lamoyne Green, institution superintendent, reported today.

He said the guard, Otis W. Britton of 149 N. Grand Ave. will face possible dismissal from the prison staff if he fails to answer a communication sent to him Tuesday, requesting reasonable explanation for having fallen asleep on duty.

It was on the grounds of having slept on duty that he was suspended for the 30-day period, Mr. Green said. Britton has been a guard at the local prison since Nov. 27, 1956.

The superintendent noted this morning that he will file an order with the Civil Service Commission requesting Britton's removal if no reasonable explanation is received by the Saturday deadline. Britton had not yet acknowledged the communication from superintendent this morning, according to Mr. Green.

Lions Hope To Finish Work on Scout Shelters

Six work crews of Lions Club members will arrive at Camp Owens early Saturday morning to complete work on the erection of five Adirondack shelters.

Actual work on the club project began last Saturday when the cement slab founation for each shelter was poured.

The teams of workers hope to complete the three-sided wood sleeping units at the Boy Scout camp tomorrow—weather and energy permitting. Each of the five shelters with its sloping roof is designed to sleep four boys. The structures are being erected near the Old Rifle Range.

Robert Bush and Paul Love are general chairmen in charge of the project.

Inaugural Ball Held

Joseph Drake Installed As President of Jaycees

The 14th annual inaugural ball, installing the 28th president of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce, was held Thursday night at Neuman Hall at the Marion Engineer Depot.

The dinner-dance affair, which featured installation ceremonies and award presentations, was attended by 50 members and wives.

Four guests, introduced by Toastmaster James Williams, were Richard Siebold, vice president of District 9 of the Ohio Jaycees; Carroll Grosenor, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dugan.

INVOCATION by Thomas Gregg preceded the dinner. The installation ceremony which followed the meal was conducted by Mr. Siebold.

Installed were: Joseph Drake, president; William Greenhill, first vice president; Paul Bell, second vice president; Orman Salyer, treasurer; and Mr. Williams secretary. Members of the board of directors are Troy Evans, Thomas Gregg, E. L. Williams and Charles Sidenstricker Jr.

William Bauer was honored as the outstanding new Jaycee and Mr. Drake as the Key Man of the organization during the awards presentations made by Ed Williams.

Dr. Drake was chosen by an outside panel of Hugh Webster, Smith Witter and Roy Holdridge as the outstanding man in both Jaycee activities and outside work. It is the first time the award has been made in several years.

The semi-annual spark plug awards went to Paul Bell, Jack Bosh, Mr. Drake, Mr. Gregg, Mr. Greenhill, Richard Haines, William Haubert, Ed Paulin, Bill Rawlins, Mr. Sidenstricker, Ed Williams and James Williams.

Lawrence Snyder was awarded a special exhausted rooster's pin.

—:—

MR. SIDENSTRICKER, outgoing president, gave his annual report, and presented special certificates of recognition to The Marion Star and WMRN.

In addition, he presented a past director's pin to Carl Mounts, a past treasurer's pin to Mr. Haines, and exhausted rooster pins to Mr. Haubert and Wendell L. Strong.

Mr. Drake in turn, presented the past president's pin to Mr. Sidenstricker.

Mrs. Haubert, outgoing Jayceette president, introduced the 1958-59 president of the wives organization, Mrs. Grant R. Fletcher.

Announcement was made of a dance to be held Aug. 9 in the organization's new club rooms with kitchen utensils to furnish the club kitchen as the price of admission.

The program closed with a special tribute to the wives presented by James Williams and Mr. Bauer. Donald Watt gave the benediction.

Dancing to record music concluded the activities.

Nixon Declares the Five Years Under Ike 'Best of Our Lives'

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon told a Maine Republican convention Thursday the five years of the Eisenhower administration were "the best years of our lives."

A crowd of 2,000 cheered him when he said "economic prospects today are better than they have been at any time since the first of the year. We have reached the bottom of the recession."

At an earlier news conference, Nixon said it is too early to tell whether the Adams-Goldfine controversy will be an issue in the forthcoming elections.

Nixon said every public official is faced almost daily with the problem of what to do about receiving gifts from friends and constituents.

"It is perfectly proper for senators and congressmen to intervene with federal agencies in behalf of their constituents — in fact it is done every day. It's a good thing too, because otherwise we would have government by bureaucracy," Nixon said.

"If there comes a time when we can't go to an elected official for help, we'll be in a sorry state of affairs."

Registrations Accepted For 'Y' Family Camp

Registrations for families interested in attending one of the first YMCA family camps in the Ohio-West Virginia Area are now available at the Marion YMCA. The camp will be held the weekend of July 4th at Camp Nelson Dodd in the Mohican State Park Area.

The camp will be open to the families on Friday evening, July 4, with each family bringing a picnic lunch for the first evening at camp. The camp will then serve the meals all day Saturday and Sunday breakfast. The cost for the camp including room and board for the two nights and four meals will run $4 per person attending.

Included in the program for the weekend will be sports and games for everyone, swimming, crafts, dancing, and a host of other camp activities. All activities will be optional to all persons attending the camp.

Tonnage Record Set

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ohio River commercial traffic set a new all-time record last year of 81,567,152 tons.

That's the report released by the U.S. Army Engineers which said this was an increase over 1956 of 5,200,000 tons on the 981-mile waterway.

Coal was the biggest commodity handled—about 44,600,000 tons of it—while chemical freight increased to 2,147,580 tons compared to 1,907,697 in 1956.

Extradition Action Is Continued Here

Extradition proceedings against 40-year-old Roy Edward Sheppard of Norwalk were continued indefinitely by Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith Thursday at the request of Sheppard's attorney, Frank Wiedemann.

Sheppard was arrested upon parole June 2 from the Marion Correctional Institution by sheriff's deputies on a governor's warrant from Texas. The warrant charged him with stealing more than $50 and a set of tires in Potter County, Tex.

Sheppard appeared in court June 3 and was given until yesterday to make application for a writ of habeas corpus. Mr. Wiedemann said today he expects to file for the writ within the next few days.

The continuance was granted after a Texas deputy sheriff was refused custody of Sheppard yesterday. The court ruled the extradition order was defective because the Potter County sheriff was named in the order to return Sheppard. Mr. Wiedemann said only the man designated in the order can return a prisoner under extradition proceedings.

Sheppard was paroled from the local institution after serving two years of a grand larceny sentence from Huron County. Mr. Wiedemann said friends of Sheppard have asked Texas authorities to drop charges against him.

Vanguard Review Due As 5 Out of 6 Tries Fail

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A Defense Department official says the Navy's Vanguard program will be reviewed. Only one of six attempts to launch the Vanguard has been successful.

Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, said Thursday night: "This does not mean that we necessarily are planning to abandon the Vanguard program, but we will have to give the program another look to see how it all adds up."

He said in an interview that the Air Force and Army programs to launch satellites would definitely go ahead.

Col. Hamilton Is Given Assignment at Capital

Col J. Arthur Hamilton, commander of the Marion Engineer Depot since May of 1955, today received word of his reassignment to the Requirements Division in the office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics in the Pentagon at Washington, D.C.

He will leave the depot about Aug. 3 for his new assignment. The nature of the Washington post has not been disclosed by the Army, nor has a successor for Col. Hamilton been named.

the war he served in the office of the Chief of Engineers in Washington. Later he served at the Engineer Research and Development Laboratories at Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Col. Hamilton won the Legion of Merit at Ft. Belvoir for development work in infra-red devices. He was awarded the Oak Leaf cluster for work in the Armed Forces Assistance Program in Korea.

Reuther, Auto Big 3 Parleys Still Snagged

DETROIT (AP)—The Big Three car makers and the United Auto Workers appeared today to be farther apart in their efforts to reach a new agreement on wages than they were at the start of negotiations three months ago.

The 1955 contracts expired Memorial Day weekend and for the past month members of the union have been working without contracts at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler plants.

The union held bargaining sessions with all three companies Thursday but no progress was reported. Company negotiators gave no indication they were ready to make a new offer.

The union is preparing for a showdown later this summer when the companies start production of 1959 models. It reported Thursday that 65 of its 231 locals in Big Three plants have completed votes authorizing strike action whenever UAW President Walter P. Reuther decides on it. The vote so far was given as 77,664 in favor of striking and 5,853 opposed.

Referring to an interplanetary rocket as "hardware" does almost as much for a man's prestige as wearing a necktie only an inch wide.

Chicken Raiser Adopts Western Branding Plan

MOCKSVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Chicken raiser M. K. Allen, of near Mocksville, was bothered by thieves stealing so many of his pullets. So he borrowed an idea from the branding iron of cattle rustling days.

He bought a tattoo set and is now putting his brand in the web of the chickens wing so he can identify stolen ones as his property

Carl's and Scantland Have Low Proposals

Five bids for the Pearl St. sanitary relief sewer and four for the Underwood Ave. street improvement project ware received by Safety-Service Director Howard Travis before the closing deadline at noon Thursday.

The other bidders on the Pearl St. sewer project were: Leach Brothers of Xenia, $50,726; Jochura Brothers of Toledo, $51,760; C. C. Plumley, $52,161 and Roger J. Av, $58,226.

Rural Merchant Stays Calm in Spite of Slump

ROCKVILLE, Va. (AP) — John Julian Snead says there isn't any recession in the country store business—it is just still bad. There is a bright side though—an opportunity to kid salesmen and to get news from them.

"Trouble is if a fellow has two dollars he spends one on gas and drives to Richmond with the other," said Snead, who is 75. "I try not to let anything bother me, as long as the conversation is good."

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

The British Personality

LONDON

One of the unexpected successes of British television over the last six months has been Lt. Gen. Sir Brian Horrocks who is a triumph of British personality.

JOHN CROSBY

Gen. Horrocks, a very good fighting man who now is retired, simply faces a camera and talks about battles he has been in. By sheer knowledge and enthusiasm he makes the last war come alive again.

I can't believe the British public is that enamored of old battles. I think they just like Gen. Horrocks.

In this case, he is a throwback to the early days of television when performers had to get along on enthusiasm and very little else. Without much except a bit of film now and then, the viewer finds himself wholly caught up in the idea.

I THINK the British are unwise not to exploit British personality more than they do. One of the most fascinating things I have seen on television here was a British vicar, who might have stepped right out of Charles Dickens, explaining with overpowering self-confidence exactly how a person who is possessed by demons should go about getting rid of them.

In case any of you are possessed by demons (and I'm beginning to wonder if that isn't what's been the matter with me all these years,) call your bishop. No, don't go near your psychiatrist. He couldn't help a bit. Demons are quite a different problem.

TV always has been a personality medium and the British are loaded with the stuff. One of their long-standing TV stars is Gilbert Harding, who is not everyone's dish of tea.

Harding is a prickly pear of a man who has his own variety program called "I Know What I Like," and what he likes is not necessarily what the great mass of people will like. Harding reminds me quite a lot of Monte Woolley or of the late Alexander Woollcott.

A PROGRAM called "Tonight" on the BBC every night is, in the BBC's own words, a mixture of "Sports, music, people, theater, argument" and it, too, bristles with ideas and ginger.

The "Tonight" staff, for instance, devoted its program to Venice one night and, far from mooning around about the fairy-like qualities of Venice, the staff got quite sharp-tongued about the smells and the dirt.

These prickly qualities, I think, give British TV their own distinction and should be perserved. When Granada broadcast a program entitled "Homosexuality and the Law," probably the most outspoken airing of that problem ever put on the air, the chairman of the program said bluntly:

"I have four people with me tonight who have very strong views, and who are going to discuss this subject absolutely frankly. If you don't like frankness on this subject, you had better switch off now."

AMONG OTHER things, this program contained a filmed interview with a homosexual who spoke of his problem, his feelings and his life with great candor. Not that such sensational stuff is always good television but avoidance of it, I think, leads to grave omissions in the responsibility of the broadcaster.

Another Granada program was called "Thou Shalt Not Kill." It was about euthanasia and it opened with the words:

"There are millions of people in this world and there is one thing certain about all of them. They are all going to die. No one has yet found a way out of it. This program is about death and about the pain that may precede death. If you don't like thinking about those things, then you'd better switch off."

The reason I bring it all up is that we seem headed in exactly the opposite direction from these blunt words. Blandness is the hallmark of our most successful program. You hardly can get blander than Perry Como short of falling asleep and you cannot imagine Mr. Como's saying anything that would offend your grandmother.

HIGH FASHION HAT? This may be M'lady's high fashion headdress if she continues to reach farther abroad and back in time for styles. This chapeau, modeled by Gloria Pagano, represents an African buffalo. It comes from British Cameroons, Africa, and it is about 60 years old. It is an item in the special exhibit "What is Primitive Art?" which opens at the Chicago Natural History Museum July 1. (UPI Telephoto)

Court Hearing Due on Liquor Storage Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater of Franklin County has issued a temporary restraining order prohibiting state Liquor Director Floyd Moon from awarding a liquor storage contract to a Massillon firm.

The order, issued Thursday, restrains Moon from entering into a two-year contract with the McClain Grocery Co. of Massillon for storing and distributing liquor to wholesalers.

Judge Sater issued the order at the request of Canton Storage, Inc. of Canton. The company said that when bids were asked Jan. 30, it was stipulated the firm getting the contract would be located in Canton.

Moon's announcement that he was awarding the contract to the McClain company came after McClain submitted the apparent low bid. Moon said a contract with the McClain firm would save the state about $82,000 over two years.

Judge Sater said the restraining order will remain in effect until the case is given a court hearing.

Hamilton Gets Federal Slum Clearance Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hamilton, Ohio, will wipe out a 22-acre slum and blighted area with a $1,134,643 loan and a $946,927 capital grant announced today by the Urban Renewal Administration.

The agency said the city will use the federal funds to acquire and renovate the second ward urban renewal project area south of the business district.

Most of the site is to be converted to single and multifamily residences by private developers. The remainder will be used for light industrial and public purposes.

Estimated net cost of the project is $1,498,732—representing the difference between the cost of acquiring and preparing the land for redevelopment and the return from its resale at a fair value.

The patrol said one of its cars was chasing Singer, to question him about a hit-skip case on U.S. 52, when patrolmen arrived at the scene where Stamper was struck. Singer's car was in a ditch.

Salvation Army Plans Activities for Children

A wiener roast and film Monday night at the new Salvation Army Citadel's playground will mark the opening of the summer program for children, Maj. Mary Nisiewicz announced today.

Youngsters enrolling in the recreation, Bible School and kindergarten programs and their parents are welcome to attend the 7 p.m. event, the major said. Registrations for the three summer programs will be taken Monday from 9 a.m. to noon at the citadel on W. Church St.

With the theme of "Let's Learn About God," Bible School sessions will begin Tuesday and run through July 14. Morning programs will be held daily Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to noon. Children between the ages of 4 and 14 may register.

Teachers for the Bible School will be Mrs. Louise Kunkle, Mrs. Lillian Smith and Miss Ruth Berry, nursery; Miss Madelyn Marsh, Miss Maggie Mobley and Mrs. Juanita Bourque, beginners; Lt. Caryl Andrews, Mrs. Mildred Jones and Mrs. Carroll Pickering, primary; Miss Ethel Mather, Mrs. Ruth Leeper and Miss Edith Connors, juniors; Gordon Bingham and Mrs. Delores Hammon, seniors.

HANDICRAFT instructors will be Lt. Lois Jordan and Mrs. Hilda Abrams. In charge of transportation will be Donald Atkinson, Miss Barbara Street, Earl Foster, John Smith and Lewis Mobley.

A kindergarten program for youngsters four and five years old will be held from July 7 to Aug. 27 on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays only, Maj. Nisiewicz reported. Sessions will meet from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., she said. Teachers are Mrs. Kunkle and Mrs. A. J. Matson.

The playground program will officially open July 15 with an organized recreation program for youngsters. The 65 by 99 foot area behind the citadel is expected to be put in use during the Bible School also, but only after it has been blacktopped and the equipment installed.

Rains in recent weeks have prevented laying of the blacktop surface, Maj. Nisiewicz said. the playground will include a volleyball and basketball court, swings, sliding boards, acrobatic bars, seesaws, merry-go-round and an outdoor fireplace, among other features. The fireplace is being built by Arnold Burnside and Robert Slack of Local 47, Brick Masons Union, who are donating their time.

PLAYGROUND equipment, originally contributed by the Kiwanis Club, has been moved from the old building on N. Prospect St. for installation at the new site.

The playground program, running daily Monday through Friday from July 15 to Aug. 28, will be in operation 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Regular Salvation Army activities will take place there in the evenings.

Organized recreation will include a crafts program, supervised games, devotional period, films and field trips. The new playground will be dedicated in a public program the evening of July 28.

Directing the summer children's program will be Miss Marsh and Mr. Bingham. Miss Marsh is the daughter of the Rev. Kenneth Marsh of Mount Gilead and is a senior at Marion College in Marion, Ind., majoring in music. This is her second year in the program.

A junior at Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky., Mr. Bingham is a Salvationist and his home is in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Construction of the playground and the summer program has been under the direction of Cecil W. Gabler and the youth committee of the advisory board. Serving with Mr. Gabler on the youth committee are Fred Cory, N. V. Foreman, the Rev. Irvin W. Emmons, Dr. D. H. MacPherson, Charlton Myers, Julian Walker and Mrs. Smith Witter.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved ahead to moderate gains this afternoon in the heaviest trading of the week.

Industrials and rails advanced irregularly, the gains mainly fractional.

Scattered losses appeared in various sections of the list.

Lower-priced, speculative issues continued in the forefront. A number of stocks were traded heavily due to special corporate developments. An unusual number of big blocks changed hands in early trading.

Rails resumed their progress on expected cancellation of the 3 per cent tax on freight shipments and also on the rise in carloadings for the third straight week.

Selected gains appeared among oils, chemicals, motors, aircrafts, steels and nonferrous metals.

Aluminium Ltd. dropped about a point.

Lorillard was off major fraction. Crucible Steel was a point ahead.

Avco, Thursday's most active stock, advanced again in heavy turnover.

American Bosch dropped more than a point. Raytheon, gyrating considerably, traded at a net loss of more than a point.

U S. government bonds eased.

Horse Loses Another Battle With Machines

OWENTON, Ky. (AP)—The machine has won the latest battle in the old war between the horse and the machine.

Dave Agee's horse fell in a gully on his farm and, try as he did, the horse couldn't get out. It was hopeless.

But a machine—a wrecker—did the job in nothing flat.

Marion Man Files Lawsuit for $31,582

Kenneth M. Heimlich of near Marion filed a $31,582 damage suit in Common Pleas Court Thursday against Federal Foods, Inc., of Thiensville, Wis.

Mr. Hemilich is seeking compensation for alleged injuries and loss of income resulting from an auto-truck accident last Aug. 20 at the intersection of State Routes 95 and 746.

According to his petition, the plaintiff was driving east on Rt. 95 when his auto was struck from the south by the defendant's tractor-trailer combination. He charges the defendant with speeding, failure to yield the right of way, disregarding a stop sign and warning devices and failure to have the truck under control.

Mr. Heimlich alleges he was totally disabled as a result of head, neck and knee injuries suffered in the crash. He alleges he lost $2,470 in earnings and was required to spend $852 for medical treatment.

The plaintiff is represented by John W. Watters and George A. Piacentino.

The men who are working on the H-bomb fallout problem need not be discouraged—some of the polite versions of ancient barnyard jokes which appear in print indicate that anything can be cleaned up.

Capt. Carl Kaplanoff Tells Local Group of Program

NIKE Missiles Pack Powerful Punch

By ALLAN BOVEY

"The man who controls the ground will control what is above it."

This theory, advanced by many of the country's armed forces experts, was emphasized again Thursday in Marion by Army Capt. Carl G. Kaplanoff, information officer for the 67th AAA Group, headquarters for the NIKE defense force in the Cleveland area.

Capt. Kaplanoff, a graduate of Bucyrus High School and Ohio State University, was guest speaker at a noon luncheon meeting of the Marion Post of the Society of American Military Engineers, held in Neuman Hall at the Engineer Depot.

The speaker, co-captain of the OSU football team in 1937, was named to the all-Big Ten squad in both '37 and '38, and in 1938 landed on the All-America second team. He subsequently played pro ball for the now defunct Brooklyn Dodgers before beginning Army service.

CAPT. KAPLANOFF explained the NIKE setup in the Cleveland area, noting in particular the types of missiles currently being used by the armed forces. He explained that the NIKE Ajax is the missile currently being used by the 67th. It is a weapon designed to destroy enemy aircraft on a one-to-one ratio. He pointed out that plans are to replace Ajax with the NIKE Hercules, a missile capable of carrying an atomic warhead, with which it would have power to destroy "fleets of enemy aircraft."

The speaker said that in the Cleveland area there are located two battalions of missiles, each battalion of which is comprised of four batteries. Each battery has three launching sections, and each section is composed of four missile launchers. If enemy aircraft attacked, a total of 96 missiles could be launched simultaneously. And, within 14 seconds, another 96 would be ready for launching.

Capt. Kaplanoff explained that each battery is composed of two individual but associated areas, separated by distances of between 1,000 and 6,000 yards. In one area are the missile launchers. In the other are the radar sets, one for tracking the target, one for tracking the missile and one for acquisition. Why the dividing space? Because at the speed of the missile, the radar must be far enough away to "pick up" its object.

The speaker touched briefly on the opposition met from residents and cities when the Army first announced plans for the misssile center. But, he emphasized that the missiles are "absolutely safe," and asserted that the only way an accident could happen would be through "some human error." Capt. Kaplanoff refused to say what the cause of the recent explosion of a NIKE battery in New Jersey, killing several missilemen, might have been. He suggested that "we will probably never know what caused it."

THE CAPTAIN explained how the radar sets work. The acquisition set seeks out the target. At a certain range it turns its duties over to the tracking set, which duly records the course, speed and altitude of the object in the sky. When the data is computed and the NIKE missile fired, the missile radar tracker keeps track of the speeding NIKE Ajax or Hercules, informing technicians on the ground of its progress to the target.

The NIKE missile is fired from a launcher set at an 85 degree angle. It leaves the pad by the force of 59,000 pounds thrust and travels toward the target at a speed of mach 2.8. Four and one-half seconds after it is off the launcher, the thrust rocket drops off and the missile's own jet fuel takes over.

When the missile is within 35 yards of the target it detonates it three warhead, which, in the case of the Ajax, are located in the nose, in the center and at the rear of the missile. The resulting explosion sends 30,000 fragments of shrapnel screaming towards the target in the form of a circle at a rate of 7,000 m.p.h. "A circle of flying steel like that can literally cut the wings right off a plane," Capt. Kaplanoff declared.

The speaker noted that once each year the missile crews go to New Mexico to practice firing near the White Sands proving grounds. "This spring," Capt Kaplanoff observed, "our missilemen fired 21 Ajax missiles. They hit their targets on 19 of the 21 shots."

Capt. Kaplanoff noted that the Hercules missile would give the two battalions in the Cleveland area more range, speed and the capability of carrying an atomic warhead. And, he pointed out that the Army is currently working on a missile - to - missile program, which, when completed, will solve the problem of fending off missile attacks by any enemy.

HE FOLLOWED HIS talk with a film in which were shown the Army's several missiles in action. These included the Hawk, a surface-to-air weapon that derives its name from the fact that it is fired to climb high above the target, diving on the latter much as does a hawk; the Honest John, a rocket capable of carrying an atomic warhead and designed as a general support weapon for troops in the field; Corporal, forerunner of the surface-to-surface missile, built to deliver an atomic blow; Little John, a support weapon for ground forces; the Dart, an anti-tank guided missile carried on a tank destroyer; La-Crosse, an Army close support weapon, designed to destroy field bunkers and similar installations; and the Redstone, a liquid-fueled, 60-foot-tall rocket which can carry an atomic warhead.

Capt. Kaplanoff concluded by saying that the Army has "great confidence" in its missile program. "We think we have something mighty important to our defense," he said, and added: "When we get the missile to destroy the missile we will certainly feel secure in the theory that the man controlling the ground must inevitably control the air."

The speaker was introduced by John Holland, program chairman. Serving as toastmaster was Oliver B. Hall, society president.
